Viet Nam Force May Be 80,000

McNamara Calls News Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara may discuss today the scope of a mounting U.S. troop buildup which could reach 75,000 to 80,000 men in South Viet Nam in the next several months.

McNamara called a midafternoon news conference without announcing a subject. The Viet Nam war, top U.S. concern at this time, was certain to form the center of the questioning.

About 53,500 U.S. military men are now stationed in South Viet Nam. This is more than double the force at the beginning of this year.

Wants More Men

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. military chief in South Viet Nam, reportedly has asked for sizable reinforcements of U.S. combat elements.

Knowledgeable sources describe McNamara and Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor as more conservative than Westmoreland in their estimates of U.S. troop requirements in Viet Nam.

There is a strong impression that President Johnson, who makes the final decisions on troop commitments, is feeling his way and will avoid any hasty moves.

Rainy Season Drive

U.S. authorities here and in Saigon now acknowledge that the Communist Viet Cong have started their long-expected rainy season offensive after building up manpower and supplies.

The widely held view is that the Communists probably will go all out to punish the South Vietnamese army and inflict serious casualties on the Americans, in hopes this will sap South Vietnamese morale and the U.S. will to stick.

Those who hold this view also believe that if the summer offensive is blunted, and the Viet Cong are bloodied badly, North Viet Nam may at last be willing to negotiate.

Many Secret Documents

Thus, the ebb and flow of the fighting this summer may determine how fast the U.S. troop commitment grows, how big it becomes, and to what extent U.S. soldiers and Marines take

Convoy Is Ambushed, DownCraft

34 Americans Hurt By Bomb in Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A large Viet Cong force ambushed a government convoy 15 miles southwest of Saigon today, apparently captured the American adviser with the unit and shot down a helicopter sent in to relieve the convoy, U.S. spokesmen announced.

Explodes in Air

One of the American crewmen aboard the helicopter was killed and the other three were seriously wounded, the spokesmen said. The helicopter reportedly exploded in the air and crashed.

In an unrelated incident, two propeller-driven U.S. Air Force fighters collided in the air and crashed on a mission near Pleiku, 240 miles northeast of Saigon. A spokesman said one of the pilots was killed and his body recovered. The other parachuted to safety uninjured.

An unofficial list of American combat deaths in the war rose to 416 and those from other causes to 182, making a total of 598.

A terrorist bomb exploded in the civilian terminal building of the Saigon airport, injuring 34 Americans and at least 12 other persons, but 120 U.S. troops waiting a short distance away to board two jet transports for the United States were not harmed.

None Hurt Seriously

None of the Americans was reported seriously injured.

In the convoy ambush southwest of Saigon, an estimated several hundred guerrillas attacked a unit of about 40 Vietnamese militia led by a district chief and his U.S. Army adviser.

The district chief escaped during the fire fight, but the American was reported missing and it was not immediately known if any of the militiamen escaped.

The helicopter apparently was hit in a fuel tank by an incendiary bullet. Another helicopter evacuated the surviving crewmen and the body of the dead American.

In addition to the 34 Americans wounded in the airport blast, 9 Vietnamese, 2 Indians and 1 French national were reported injured, a U.S. spokesman said. Other reports said two French citizens were hurt.

All the injured Americans were reported working in the terminal building or on business there. Military spokesmen said 17 were Army personnel, 15 were Air Force men and 2 were Navy.

One Suffers Broken Leg

The majority were released after treatment, the spokesmen said, and the most seriously injured person appeared to be a Vietnamese who suffered a broken leg.

Security officials said the bomb was a plastic explosive weighing between 10 and 20 pounds. It exploded in an Air France freight office overlooking the main waiting room.

The concrete terminal was showered with debris and broken glass. Every window in the building was blown out and a section of the roof collapsed.

The airport was closed to commercial traffic. Officials said it probably would not reopen before Thursday morning.

Military sources said Lt. Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, was aboard a plane on a runway preparing to take off when the explosion occurred. His aircraft reportedly took off without delay. He was reported making a routine field trip.

Check for More Bombs

The explosion was the second terrorist blast at the airport in less than a year. Another blast last October badly damaged the terminal restaurant.

U.S. military police cordoned off the airport and demolition crews checked for more bombs. Vehicles were carefully inspected at checkpoints.

In the air war against North Viet Nam, U.S. planes struck at bridges, barges and military barracks today.

Military spokesmen said eight planes from the carrier Midway hit the Yen Phu barracks 116 miles south of Hanoi for the sixth time since June 12 and inflicted additional damage to administration and barracks buildings and supply and support areas.

Another four pilots from the Midway reported minor damage to three wooden bridges, one 110 miles southwest of Hanoi and

More Gunfire Heard In Heart of Santo

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Sharp explosions and gunfire echoed today in the heart of Santo Domingo, where a daylong battle Tuesday between rebels and U.S. troops left 21 Dominicans dead and 24 American paratroopers wounded.

The gunfire, however, was described as moderate to light.

During the night, mortar shells landed in the rebel sector at intervals of 15 to 30 minutes after a cease-fire ended the big battle.

There was no report of casualties from the mortar firing. But the rebels said it could provoke new fighting.

The rebels suggested that the mortar fire came from troops of the military-civilian junta in the northern sector of the capital, on the far side of the international safety zone occupied by the Inter-American Force.

The dead in the prolonged battle Tuesday included 17 rebel soldiers and two children. Twenty-six wounded Dominicans were brought into a hospital in the rebel sector. A Brazilian lieutenant of the Inter-American peace force also was wounded.

Top Aide Killed

Among the dead was Andre Riviere, a top aide to rebel Defense Minister Col. Ramon Manuel Montes Arache. Riviere was a Frenchman who had been fighting with the rebels.

The mediation team of the Organization of American States blamed the rebels for starting the shooting. The OAS team said the rebels opened fire at 8 a.m. and American paratroopers of the Inter-American Force didn't shoot back for 25 minutes.

Rebel leaders claimed U.S. troops began the firing near a power plant just below the eastern tip of the international safety zone. The plant had been under attack almost nightly from raiding parties from within the rebel lines.

The OAS report said a brigade commander of the Inter-American Force "reported that the attacking (rebel) troops were trying to maneuver and to capture positions in the security zone."

The firing was the heaviest involving U.S. troops since American forces were sent to the Dominican Republic April 28. A cease-fire was arranged at

Extensive Growth Expected in Area Of New Route 84

The importance of Interstate Route 84 in the future growth of southern Dutchess and northern Orange Counties has been re-emphasized by a recent request from the Westchester County Realty Board, Inc., to tour properties generally located near the new highway and suitable for industrial and commercial development.

The tour has been set for June 23 and is being organized by the Industrial Development Division of Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation.

Meaningful Indication

In announcing the tour, Charles H. Adler, industrial development director for Central Hudson, said, "It is significant that the members of commercial and industrial division of the Westchester Realty Board requested the opportunity to tour industrial sites. I think this is a meaningful indication of the expanding interest in this region.

The guests at the June 23rd tour are specialists in locating properties and plants for industrials firms.

Alder explained, "We feel the tour will provide an excellent opportunity to actually illustrate the many advantages offered by the region. Our objective is to make these influential industrial real estate experts aware of a number of specific sites so they will favorably consider the Mid-Hudson region when seeking locations to recommend to their clients."

Goldwater Is To Run for Senate in '68

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Former Sen. Barry Goldwater says he will seek a U.S. Senate seat in 1968 "regardless of who runs on the opposition ticket" and promised "a high-level clean campaign."

Drawing loud applause at a political science club meeting Tuesday night, Goldwater conceded it would be difficult to oppose Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., "but I would do it."

It was the first time Goldwater had said he would oppose Hayden, 88, an old friend and dean of the Senate — should Hayden decide to run.

Previously he had said he would run for the Senate only if an opening developed.

Finds Relaxation

Speaking before an audience of 500, Goldwater appeared fit and fielded a variety of questions.

By throwing his hat into the political arena Goldwater ended seven months of "just relaxing" which included a motor tour of Europe.

It was his first break from politics since he won a seat on the Phoenix City Council in 1949.

In January 1964, after spending four years traveling the country expressing his views, Goldwater announced he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for president.

Takes Nomination

By early May, through primaries, state conventions, and congressional district caucuses, he had gained the support he needed to wrest the nomination from the so-called GOP moderates.

The Republican National Convention nominated Goldwater by a 883 to 214 margin over his nearest competitor, Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania.

Political forecasters predicted 64.4 per cent of the vote for President Johnson when Election Day dawned. When the ballots were counted Johnson had

Carl L. Norden Of Bombsight Fame Dies at 85

WASHINGTON (AP) — You've probably seen it in old war movies — the thing the bombardier toted out to the B17 in a little black satchel.

It was a legend in World War II, and even in Korea.

It was the Norden bombsight.

Its inventor, Carl L. Norden, died Tuesday at 85 at his home in Zurich, Switzerland.

His little black box — crude, perhaps by present-day standards — was far and away the best thing of its kind in World War II. Its secrets were among the most carefully guarded of the war.

Had Cruder Sights

Before Norden came up with his design cruder sighting instruments — essentially crosshair devices with hasty mathematical computations by the bombardier — were used for high-altitude bombing. Misses were plentiful.

When the United States entered World War II, it had the vehicles for high-level strategic attack — the B17 which was followed midway through the war by the B24. But accurate devices for bomb sighting were lacking.

Norden began work for the U.S. government in the early months of the war, concentrating on an improved sight.

Real Accuracy

What he developed was a compact package, small enough to be carried in a black bag — for purposes of secrecy — but with a sighting accuracy beyond anything then possessed by this country or probably any other.

It was a stabilized, automatic bombsight, with gyroscopes controlling the pitch and roll of the instrument.

As the bomber headed in toward the target, the bombardier took aim. He cranked into the bomb sight, by various cranks and buttons, data on wind, drift, speed of the aircraft and altitude, with corrections as the bomb release point was reached.

The Norden sight, while the Benedictine Fund Drive Continues, $40,000 Needed

Sister Mary Charles and Edwin B. Bolz, co-administrators of the Benedictine Hospital, announce they have been informed by the State Hill-Burton Authority that the $750,000 assigned to the Benedictine Hospital project will still be available provided the building fund drive raises at least $1,000,000 by June 30, 1965.

In announcing this extension of 15 days, Sister Mary Charles and Mr. Bolz indicate that it is probably because of the need for beds in this area and the earnest and fine support of the drive by

Calls Georgia Crash Worse Than in Viet

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — "It's bad because it catches you off guard," said the officer in the pilot's flight suit. "I haven't any memory of anything as bad as this from Viet Nam, I'll tell you."

The veteran of Viet Nam was looking at the wreckage and some of the bodies of the 18 soldiers killed in the collision and crash of two Army assault helicopters Tuesday.

Bodies Scattered About

A thin stream of smoke rose from the smoldering parts of one of the two helicopters which rammed together during a training flight at nearby Ft. Benning.

One went down in flames and landed in a swampy area, the other struck a tall pine tree about 50 yards away and fell to the ground.

There were two bodies under the wreckage and shattered tree branches and other bodies scattered about.

"As an educated guess," said another officer who declined to be identified, "they sideswiped each other for some reason."

The second helicopter was not burned badly but it was a mangled mass of metal, tubing, cables, instruments and parts

Maj. Gen. John A. Heintges, the Ft. Benning commanding general, said in a statement that he joined with all personnel of the infantry center "in sorrow for those who lost their lives as well as for their bereaved parents and families."

Four in Formation

Capt. Wade Ladue, a Ft. Benning public information officer, said four HU1B helicopters were flying in tight formation when the accident occurred. They were at low altitude shortly after takeoff.

The two helicopters in the rear collided, he said, and as far as could be determined the men in the other two craft didn't see what happened.

Each of the helicopters had a capacity of 10 — three crewmen and seven infantrymen.

The information office said they were the same type used by the Army in Viet Nam but declined to say whether the soldiers were in training for action in Southeast Asia.

The victims were from B and C Companies of the 38th Infantry of the 2nd Infantry Division. They were on a training mission in a remote area of the sprawling reservation. The helicopters were assigned to the 227th Assault Helicopter Battalion, 11th Air Assault Division.

Food Chain Makes Settlement With U.S. Commission

EAST PATERSON, N.J. — Grand Union President Thomas C. Butler announced today that the "long-pending action of the Federal Trade Commission against The Grand Union Company, arising out of the acquisition of the former Empire and Sunrise supermarkets, has been settled."

Butler stated that "settlement of the FTC charge of Clayton Act violation was in no way a concession or admission by the company of any violation of law. Nor does the agreement imply that an earlier dismissal of the charge by an FTC examiner was not correct.

"The agreement of settlement reflects our working out with the Commission of a constructive settlement which would bring this long and costly litigation to an end," he said.

Won't Affect Earnings

Grand Union's earnings and growth capabilities will not be affected by the agreement, Butler pointed out, nor will the company be placed at a competitive disadvantage.

Under terms of the settlement, Grand Union agrees to offer for sale 10 of the markets included in the Empire-Sunrise acquisitions of 1958. They include single

DA Endorses Drug War

Women's Club Spearheads Co. Fight

Action spearheaded by a special committee of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Ulster County investigating the problem of narcotics in this area received full endorsement from District Attorney Joseph P. Torraca Tuesday afternoon.

At a special meeting in the Court House with the district attorney, Ulster County Invesigator Thomas Mayone and a representative of the Narcotics Control Bureau of the New York State Department of Health, the seven-woman committee discussed the immediate problems of drug addiction is this area, various drugs being used by addicts, causes and effects, and certain long-range plans of action.

Contrary to statements already made to the press with respect to strengthening laws governing narcotics, the BPW committee heard District Attorney Torraca say that "the laws are good." He explained that the stumbling blocks are in the enforcement of the laws and particularly the ever-widening interpretations given to the Laws of Evidence.

Torraca further explained that the punishment for "pushers" of drugs has been increased to a maximum of 25 years.

In commending the local BPW Club for its work, District Attorney Torraca asked for aid in promoting the following points:

(1) Move for greater coordinatin between local, state and federal law enforcement agencies;

(2) Promote program for follow-up treatment after institutional care;

(3) Encourage the establishment of more Half-Way Houses;

(4) Ask that there be no let-up on the minimum sentencing structures;

(5) That the philosophy and attitude concerning addicts be not strictly a medical one, but

More Space for Mails

Progress Made on Work at Old Factory

Final work was in progress this week to prepare some 19,000 square feet of floor space in the former Fuller Shirt Factory on Pine Grove Avenue for use by the local postal system to expand its facilities as a sectional center in the handling of mail.

It is expected that the new space will be ready for occupancy by July 1. Including existing space in the main post office on central Broadway, it will provide a total of some 29,000 square feet for operation of the center.

Plans for the expansion were announced in The Freeman March 9, and in April it was reported that space in the Fuller building was to be used.

Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk noted in March that the sectional center with addition of floor space would involve service to 80 or 85 area communities instead of the 55 to 60 now involved. Added are communities in an area known as the Windham Mountain Run.

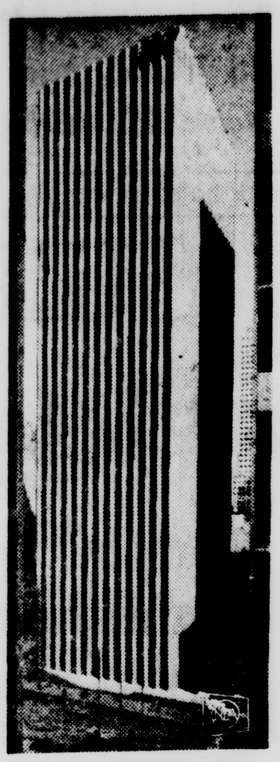

Use of some 8,000 square feet of space in the West Shore Railroad freight house is to be discontinued after that in the Fuller building becomes available. The freight house space has been used for sereval years.

J. H. Schoonmaker & Son, of Florence Street, is the contractor renovating the Fuller building, which is now owned by the Pilgrim Furniture Co., of Greenkill Avenue.

Kingston had hopes of gaining a new main post office building as far back as 1958 and action was taken in that direction, but economics in the federal post office department have since been emphasized, and this could, at least in part, account for the fact that nothing definite in that direction appears to have materialized.

Congressman J. Ernest Wharton, in March of 1958 reported

She also expressed her appreciation to the following teenagers, all students of the Onteora Central School who assisted: Yolanda Grien, Anne Prochaska, Dorcas Merrihew, Susan Witko, Carol Lane, Kateri Finken, Deborah Burgher, Piedad Fontanes, Dorothy Holt, Laurie DuBois, Betsy Castle, Janet Hausner, Judy Dolce, Beverly Henkel, Kathy Scherrer, Judy Straub and Helen Makelin.

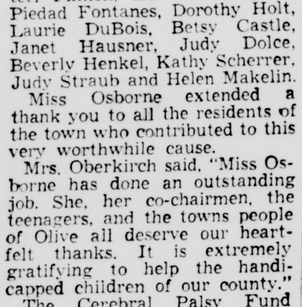

Miss Osborne extended a thank you to all the residents of the town who contributed to this very worthwhile cause.

Mrs. Oberkirch said, "Miss Osborne has done an outstanding job. She, her co-chairmen, the teenagers, and the towns people of Olive all deserve our heartfelt thanks. It is extremely gratifying to help the handicapped children of our county."

The Cerebral Palsy Fund Drive is taking place in Ulster and Greene Counties outside the Community Chest area. All those who have not been contacted and wish to contribute may make a donation by mailing to the Cerebral Palsy Center, 400 Broadway, Kingston.

matter of fact

The pineapple was known at least as early as the time of Columbus and Sir Walter Raleigh, who both refer to it in their writings. They found it growing in the West Indies where it was used for food and for wine making. Within a short time it was being carried to many parts of the world, particularly by the Portuguese. Today 1,750,000 tons of pineapple are produced every year. Forty-five per cent of this crop comes from the Hawaiian Islands.

Find Buffalo Mayor On Floor in Office

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Mayor Chester C. Kowal, indicted Tuesday along with a former city official on charges of perjury, conspiracy and taking unlawful fees, was found unconscious early today in his City Hall office.

"Some white pills" were found beside Kowal's face, Police Commissioner William H. Schneider said.

In Fair Condition

Kowal, 60, was rushed to Columbus Hospital where, a physician said, his stomach was pumped. He was reported in fair condition.

Schneider said Kowal had disappeared from his home late last night.

When his wife, Stephanie, could not find him, she became alarmed and called Kowal's brother, Peter, and the mayor's secretary, John Sullivan. They and police searched for Kowal and finally found him unconscious on a floor in his inner office, Schneider said.

The mayor had vomited, the commissioner said.

The hospital physician said Kowal regained consciousness while being treated in the emergency room.

Kowal and former corporation counsel Ralph Saft, 56, have been charged with perjury, conspiracy, taking unlawful fees and violating the state law regarding public officials.

Handed Up Tuesday

The charges were contained in indictments handed up Tuesday by a holdover grand jury investigating alleged links between city officials and a private contractor for the development and operation of a private dump.

The grand jury investigation also was concerned with a redevelopment program in the city's Ellicott district.

Both Kowal and Saft pleaded innocent to the charges during their arraignment Tuesday. They were both released in their own recognizance.

Kowal, a Republican, quickly called the charges "purely political" and accused Dist. Atty. Michael F. Dillon, a Democrat, with conducting a "publicity-oriented circus at the expense of the grand jury and the taxpayers of Erie County."

Dillon was not available for comment.

In the indictments, Kowal was charged with a total of six felonies and seven misdemeanors. Saft was accused of a total of four felonies and seven misdemeanors.

The mayor also was charged with two counts of first-degree perjury alleging he lied to the grand jury.

The felonies involved the alleged taking of unlawful fees and violations of the state law regarding public officials. The conspiracy counts detailed a list of allegations involving negotiations for refuse-disposal contact.

Colleges Draw Harrisburg Ire

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's four major state-aided universities are on the legislative gridle again, this time over their admissions policies.

Senate Democrats, who have it within their power to delay state appropriations to the schools indefinitely, demanded Tuesday that the Senate Appropriations Committee determine what consideration is given to Pennsylvania students.

Concerned About Penn

Until then, said Sen. Benjamin R. Donolow, spokesman for the Democratic caucus, no votes would be provided for the $47.5 million worth of appropriations to the University of Pennsylvania, the University of Pittsburgh and Temple and Pennsylvania State universities.

Donolow said he was particularly concerned about admissions to the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, adding:

"Only 18 per cent of the undergraduates at Penn are from Pennsylvania."

Both houses returned for light working sessions today after hurrying through their chores Tuesday to attend a legislative reception given by Gov. Scranton at the executive mansion at Indiantown Gap.

Despite the rush, the Senate received and gave immediate preliminary approval to $92 million worth of stop-gap appropriations to provide temporary operating funds for state government when the new fiscal year begins July 1.

Would Raise Loans

Other highlights:

College Loans — Bipartisan legislation was introduced by 15 senators to raise the maximum annual loan to college students from $1,000 to $1,250. However, the newly approved over-all limit would remain at $7,500.

Gas Taxes—A bill to increase the big city share of the state's distribution of motor fuel tax funds to municipalities was amended to assure that smaller cities would not lose anything.

Labor Bills—The House Labor Relations Committee sent to the floor a package of seven bills for improvements in the labor field. The package is part of the Democratic legislative program.

Manpower Retraining — The Scranton Administration's $6.6 million manpower retraining bill also was given committee approval and sent to the House floor for further action.

School Bus — The governor signed into law a bill which provides tax-paid bus transportation for parochial and private school children on established routes for the first time.

Conservationists To Hear Leading Speakers June 22

The Hudson River Conservation Society will hold its 29th annual meeting here on June 22 at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Two prominent conservationists will speak—Conrad Wirth, executive director of the new Hudson River Valley Commission, and Meredith Thompson, director of Division of Environmental Health Service, Department of Health, Albany.

Wirth will outline the work his commission is doing in drawing up an overall conservation program for the Valley. The commission was named in March, 1965 by Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller ". . . to assure and protect the future benefits to the people which flow from this great natural resource."

Thompson will speak on the general subject of water pollution abatement, a field in which he specializes. He also will show a short film about the wide-spread pollution of New York State waters.

William H. Osborn, Garrison, president of the Society, will conduct a business session after the luncheon which starts at 12:15 p. m. Four directors, class of 1970, will be elected.

Arrangements for the meeting were made by Committee Chairman John P. Remensnyder, Saugerties, and Mrs. Hobart D. Hunt, Poughkeepsie, and Miss Ruth Gillette Hardy, Spring Valley.

The Hudson River Conservation Society was organized in 1936. Its purpose is "to protect and maintain the beauties of the Hudson Valley, to preserve its scenic and historic landmarks, to eliminate the pollution of its water and air, to develop its recreational values and to cooperate with industry and, where necessary, to seek its regulation in order to help achieve these aims."

Military Victory Costly: Fulbright

Reds May Negotiate on Viet After Monsoon Season Ends

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright says that if the Viet Cong offensive can be held in check the Communists may be willing to negotiate on Viet Nam when the monsoon season ends in the fall.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told the Senate Tuesday that the United States must do two things in Viet Nam: (1) Demonstrate that it cannot be driven from the country by force and (2) "Offer the Communists a reasonable and attractive alternative to military victory."

Fulbright's speech came one day after he conferred with President Johnson on Viet Nam. There was widespread belief in Congress that he was reflecting White House views. He said a complete U. S. military victory would cost more than it was worth and called for a negotiated settlement. He also praised Johnson s patience in dealing with a situation he said holds the threat of catastrophe.

Committed to Ending War

The Arkansas Democrat said: "There have been pressures from various sources for expanding the war. President Johnson has resisted these pressures with steadfastness and statesmanship and remains committed to the goal of ending the war at the earliest possible time without preconditions."

Fulbright said a previous five-day lull in U.S. air strikes at North Viet Nam was too short. He added: "It also must be noted that the suspension elicited no response from Hanoi and Peking."

U.S. officials said a second pause in the bombings had never been ruled out. But they added that no advance word will be given on such a move since it would permit the Communists to use the lull to move up reinforcements.

Fulbright spoke after Sens. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, and A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., urged the President in Senate speeches to take the Viet Nam matter to the United Nations.

Javits View

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who favors a Senate Foreign Relations Committee inquiry into the Viet Nam situation, says that group could combine such a probe with its upcoming fact-finding survey of the situation in the Dominican Republic.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., appealed to the South Vietnamese to end internal bickering.

Mansfield said in a Senate speech that "regional, religious and other feuds" are hurting the war effort. Dodd told a newsman it is imperative that "the Catholics, the Buddhists and all other sects put aside their differences in the interest of their own freedom and security."

Blast Kills 10

ROTTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) — At least 10 Dutch were killed today when a Norwegian tanker was gutted in the port of Rotterdam after a heavy explosion.

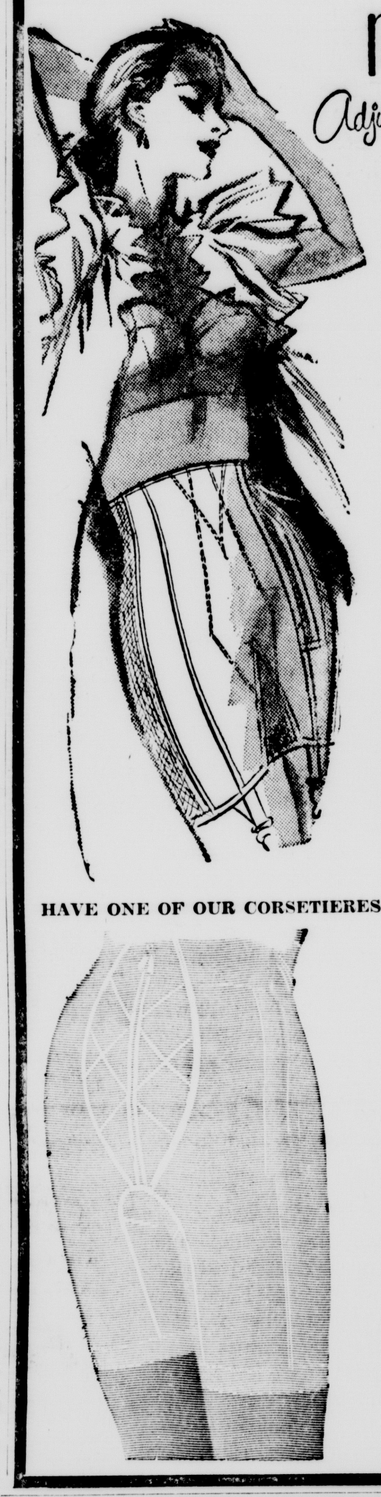

Police said at least six others were missing.

The captain of the 22,088-ton tanker Ronastar reported all 42 crew members and passengers were safe.

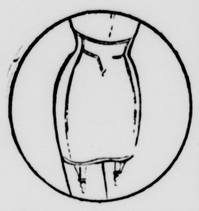

The dead and missing were laborers cleaning the tanker.

Note to new cooks: the easiest way to manage rolled cookie dough or pastry is to use a pastry cloth and stockinet covered rolling pin. These kitchen accessories are well worth the small investment they call for.

KINGSTON NEW YORK, JUNE 16, 1965

FOR 190 YEARS

The Revolutionary War was two months old when the United States Army was born, a year before the existence of the nation itself was proclaimed to all the world.

It was on June 14, 1775, that a resolution of the Continental Congress meeting in Philadelphia established the Army and ordered it to engage the enemy at Boston. The next day, Congress appointed George Washington as commander-in-chief.

An army of sorts was already fighting in Massachusetts. Three days after the congressional resolution, and before Washington could travel what was then a formidable distance to assume command, this ragged, self-armed assemblage of yeomen and townsfolk was repulsed by the British after a stubborn defense in what has gone down proudly in history as the Battle of Bunker Hill.

Through 190 years, seven wars and countless other actions, the Army has served the nation, in the words of Secretary of the Army Stephen Ailes, "all over the world in every climate from rain forest to ice cap, from desert to vineyard, from plans to rice paddy."

Its history is replete with the names of famous battles, of famous divisions and regiments, of famous heroes—men called forth both from the ranks of the professionals who continued to serve after the shooting was over and of the civilians who in every war, like the colonials of 1775, left farm and shop and business to don the uniform "for the duration."

Today, the duration of the hot-cold war against communism has no foreseeable end. American soldiers are still standing guard, and in some places fighting and dying, in the name of the nation and of those ideals which the Army was first created to defend 190 years ago.

FAULTY DRUG WARNINGS

Despite the thalidomide scandal and years of controversy over possible bad side effects of some new drugs, the Food and Drug Administration still has not worked out a sound way of warning doctors about such things. Such bureaucratic lethargy is hard enough to justify in any case. When it concerns matters of such importance—perhaps life-and-death importance—to the public, it is unforgivable.

A congressional subcommittee finds that the FDA has authorized a drug firm to send a vital cautionary message to physicians by third class mail in a plain white envelope that bears only the wards, "Important Information." It would be interesting to know how many such envelopes were tossed away unopened as junk mail. Now the FDA, under committee prodding, has agreed to insist that in the future such warnings go via first class mail and suitably marked to make sure doctors know what they are getting. Can anyone say why this common sense procedure was not followed in the first place?

New grading may produce leaner beef, the Department of Agriculture announces. And leaner consumer purses, naturally.

KNOWLEDGE FOR A PITTANCE

Inquisitive man may be able to have his nuclear cake and eat it, too.

Though they are as glad as the rest of us that there is a ban on nuclear explosions in the atmosphere, military men would still like to know more about what happens in such violent events.

Now the Navy is going to build a 2,447-foot-long shock tube that will reproduce the effects of a 20-kiloton bomb at altitudes up to 100,000 feet, using only a 1,000-pound conventional high-explosive charge.

Where the costs of atmospheric tests were measured in the millions, the new simulator will yield data about blast effects on electronic equipment and scale models of such things as ship superstructures and buildings for about $5,000 a shot.

And—no fallout.

A panel recommends putting first-class and air maill in one category. Would that mean faster first-class service, or just slower air mail?

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

THE UN's TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY

June 26 is the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the United Nations. The anniversary day comes at a time when the UN has never been more powerless to affect the behavior of nations. The UN General Assembly met this year without ever daring to put anything to a vote, lest Soviet Russia, which has refused to pay its share of the bill for past "peace-keeping" operations, should be forced by the regulations either to pay up or be deprived of participation in Assembly decisions. What this means is that the UN has no way of forcing its members to obey its own internal rules. How, then, can it make its writ effective in the world at large?

The answer is that UN peace-keeping has always been at the mercy of chance. The one important UN action, which was taken in Korea in 1950 after a Communist army had invaded South Korea from the north, came at a time when the Soviet Union had absented itself from the Security Council and so failed to use its veto. The UN has had a couple of successes in preventing conflagrations in the Middle East, and it achieved a most dubious victory in the Congo by driving Moise Tschombe out of his home province of Katonga. But this just about completes the record of the UN's peace-keeping accomplishments.

Meanwhile, terrible things have happened while the representatives of 100-odd nations talked and talked and talked in the glass house hard by the waters of Manhattan's East River. Khrushchev's tanks rumbled into Hungary in 1956 and the UN did nothing. When Nehru, supposedly one of the UN's true believers, sent Indian troops into Portuguese Goa, there wasn't a peep out of the glass house. The Soviets moved their missiles into Cuba, and it took eyeball-to-eyeball action of President Kennedy to do anything about that. It was suggested at the time that the UN provide inspection inside Cuba to see that the missile sites had really been dismantled, but we are still waiting for that to happen. And now, as the tempo of warfare rises in Vietnam, and the OAS takes the play away from the UN in the Dominican Republic, the UN's U Thant wrings his hands and bemoans his lack of power to do anything.

When the speechmakers converge on San Francisco a few days from now to celebrate the UN's twentieth anniversary, they will no doubt pay pious tribute to the world organization as "the last best hope." And, in so doing, they will be helping to perpetuate an illusion that has ruined the teaching of political science in the United States. For a generation now American students in high school and college have been led to believe that the peace of the world can be kept by machinery, or by gimmicks, not by the will of statesmen to deploy power to the ends of making war unprofitable. Our people have had their eyes diverted from realities, and, like all dreamwalkers, they have not been able to act responsibly when confronted with crises.

This does not mean that the UN is useless. The business of making your diplomacy stick, and of balancing the power, is a matter of convincing others, and the UN offers a forum that can be just as useful as the old meetings of plenipotentiaries. But the point is that the UN is merely a place for a meeting of the powers, not a power in itself. The great disservice that all the professional "friends of the UN" have done is to confuse the categories. The school children whom they herd through the gates of the UN to tell them about "world government" grow up with mush in place of brains.

A lot of things will be said at San Francisco on June 26. But will anyone have the courage to come up with one honest speech?

The DOCTOR SAYS

Elderly Should Prepare For World's Fair Visit

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

If you plan to go to the New York World's Fair you should make sure you can take it. This applies particularly to persons who are over 60. Dr. Paul Dudley White, the eminent heart specialist, suggests that elderly persons have a physical examination before they visit the fair. Their visits should be limited to half a day, preferably in the morning when the crowds are not so heavy.

If you feel that you must spend more than half a day at the fair, it is wise to combine a half a day of walking with a half a day at the Dynamic Maturity Pavilion or other restful centers.

As an aid to elderly persons at the fair, Dynamic Maturity, which is sponsored by the American Association of Retired Persons and the National Retired Teachers Assn., has prepared a leaflet entitled "Helpful Hints for Older Persons Visiting the New York World's Fair."

This brochure lists services and pavilions of special interest to retired persons. It may be obtained at the Dynamic Maturity Pavilion or by writing to the Pavilion, New York World's Fair, Flushing, N. Y.

So, if you re over 60, remember the words of the poet, John Dryden, who said: "None but the brave deserve the fair."

Q—My daughter, 15, and son, 17, are both nearsighted. Will close work make them more nearsighted? Do contact lenses help to prevent nearsightedness from getting worse?

A—It was long believed that close work caused or aggravated nearsightedness. We now know that this is not so as nearsightedness is just as prevalent in primitive tribes as it in those who read incessantly. Close work can cause eyestrain if the illumination is not right—not bright enough or too much glare—but this will cause evening headaches rather than nearsightedness.

Properly fitted lenses (contact or conventional) will improve the vision and help prevent eyestrain but will not affect nearsightedness. In most persons their nearsightedness starts in childhood or their teens, progresses slowly and remains fairly stationary in adult life. In progressive nearsightedness the condition progresses rapidly and requires wearing very thick lenses. Fortunately this hereditary disease is fairly rare.

HIGHWAY SAFETY SIGNS

Although only actual testing in traffic can give a proper evaluation of any driver's competence, the recent "National Driver's Test" on television did reveal some serious deficiencies among the millions of persons who participated in it.

For instance, 36 per cent of those who took the test did not know that a blinking red light at an intersection means a FULL stop, then proceed when clear. Here is a case where ignorance is not conducive to bliss, no matter how much driving skill sits behind the wheel.

The ability to recognize traffic signs before the lettering of them becomes legible is a fundamental mark of a good driver and is especially important in heavy, fast-moving traffic where there is little time to puzzle out meanings.

Yet 29 per cent of the testees did not know that an octagonal-shaped sign is a stop sign; 43 per cent did not know that a diamond-shaped sign means yield right of way.

Washington News

BY BRUCE BIOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The "neutrality" which some see as a way out for the United States in South Viet Nam has now had nearly three years of tests in neighboring Laos. It is a failure.

The coalition government set up under the 1962 Geneva accords actually has been without effective Pathet Lao Communist representation for more than two years. Only rightwing and neutralist elements under Prince Souvanna Phouma are taking part.

On the other hand, the coalition government is totally barred from any administrative control over the two-thirds of Laos which has been seized by the Pathet Lao.

The testimony of reporters on the scene at the time is that the Pathet Lao were interested in a "neutral" coalition only so long as they thought they could subvert it.

When Souvanna Phouma and his genuine neutralists resisted Red encroachments, the Pathet Lao stepped out of the government and put full reliance on military measures.

IN THE REDS' VIEW, real neutralists are to be lumped with the enemy. The Reds see every "liberation" struggle as a two-sided matter. They accepted the "neutralization" of Laos in 1962 only because they took it as a substantial stride toward victory.

Nor are the Pathet Lao resting on past military conquest. Their infiltrators are continuously busy in those areas under rightwing and neutralist army control.

But for their evident fear of Western retaliation, the Reds might well try to push into Vientiane on the Mekong river and make a grab for all remaining government-held soil.

Not only did neutrality as a political device last less than a year after the Geneva accords, but the ban in the agreement against foreign military intervention in Laos was ignored from the outset.

In some U. S. circles, though not many, it is still fashionable to suggest that the Comunist North Vietnamese are just good old "stay-at-homes" who would not think of venturing into neighboring South Viet Nam or Laos.

Enough solid evidence has already been produced of their presence in South Viet Nam and their long use of the "Ho Chi Minh Trail" as a Laotian supply route to that country.

MORE TO THE POINT here are conservative Western estimates that some 10,000 North Vietnamese soldiers are presently in Laos, helping as always for more than a decade to beef up the Pathet Lao.

Several weeks ago another battalion of North Vietnamese was reported to have reached Mahaxay in central Laos. Units were said to be taking two boys and two girls from each nearby villages as hostages.

But the introduction of new battalions only freshens an old story. Notwithstanding the Geneva settlement calling for removal of Hanoi's Viet Minh troops, they did not go. As advisers and spearhead cadres, they have served continuously with Pathet Lao.

Newsmen's first-hand reports, which generally are being given great credence these days, support the case for a heavy North Vietenamese presence in Laos.

THE MATTER CAN BE TAKEN a step farther. It was actually the Viet Minh who brought the Pathet Lao into Laos 12 years ago. The latter has been trained and equipped in North Viet Nam. Their Communits party, the Lao Dong, is a North Vietnamese organization with headquarters in Hanoi.

When the French bowed out of Indochina in the 1954 Geneva parley, they were so eager to cut and run that the Pathet Lao were allowed to keep the two Laotian provinces they then controlled.

From that strong springboard, with Hanoi's constant help, they began systematically to undermine Laos' neutrality in Stage One — before the 1962 Geneva accords. What has happened since is part, then of an unbroken effort.

Neutrality to Peking and Hanoi means a phase of war. To us, such neutrality perhaps means only postponing an inevitable, conceivably harder day of reckoning.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

The child is an enigma. He can be loved. And appreciated. And taught. And tamed. He can be bathed and fed and medicated. But how does a parent scrub a mind? Who can get into that small round lovable skull to find out what is really going on? If anything. . . .

Dr. Ivan C. Berlien is a psychiatrist's psychiatrist. He is a member of the Mental Health Society, a founding member of The Group for the Advancement of Psychiatry. He is 57, handsome, blue-eyed, and wears silver-framed glasses and a gold wedding band. He sat at lunch in the Calcutta Room of the Diplomat Hotel and talked of the little ones.

"Children," he said, "require total love. You cannot turn affection on them and turn it off." He worked over a lean salad with fat dressing. "You cannot fool dogs, horses or babies," he said. "They can detect love as a Geiger counter detects radiation."

With love, he said, goes discipline. A well-loved child understands, and secretly appreciates, a good whack on the rump. A beating alienates a youngster, and screaming relieves the parent, but a sharp paddling teaches the colt that he has tried to hop the fence of the parental corral. The young are always testing the love of mothers and fathers.

The infantile sexual desire of the child turns towards himself. This is normal. Dr. Berlien thinks it is best to ignore this so-called naughtiness, rather than draw attention to it. Exposing a child to shame seldom stops the offense. What is done openly can be done secretly.

Sleep is sometimes fretful because little ones fear losing the few skills they have. The use of a spoon, toilet training, buttoning clothes properly, can keep a youngster awake. Often, a bed-wetter is memely trying to say: "See? I'm a baby. You have placed too much responsibility on me."

Proper diet is almost unimportant. Youngsters sense their food needs, often with more accuracy than parents or doctors. The best rule is: "Put it on the table and permit the child to take if from there." One little boy was found chewing the mortar from between bricks in a house. Blood chemistry tests showed that he had a calcium deficiency. He knew where to cure it.

Imaginary games are important. For the young, it is the creation of a lovely world. However, if the child prefers imaginary games when real children are available for play, see a psychiatrist. If girls play boys' games, and vice versa, there is no danger unless it persists through puberty. At that time, it might be a single indication of homosexuality.

"Adolescence," said Dr. Berlien, choosing the parts of the salad he liked, and ignoring the rest of it, "is so stormy that I wonder how anybody gets through it. Often, an adolescent will appear to be emotionally disturbed when he isn't, and appear not to be when he is."

Like travel in outer space, there are no absolutes in a young mind. The best advice is to watch a persistant behavior flaw. Then use common sense. If it rings an alarm bell in the parent's mind, do not excuse it, hide it or attack it alone. Ask for psychological help. It's a lovely feeling when a competent doctor tells you that there is nothing abnormal.

There is a herd instinction in our youth. The current generation wants to play everything "cool." This denotes an undying enmity to tears, sentiment—almost all the emotions except derisive laughter. The girls, like sheep, depress their natural emotions because the boys want everyone to "play it cool." It applies to music, love, dates, mob rule, dress, cleanliness and responsibility. This generation, I would surmise, has a date with oblivion.

The battle with the teenagers is already lost. This, fortunately, is not true with babies. Infants who scream and hold their breath, or bang their heads against walls, should be ignored. Continued holding of breath induces a comatose state, and natural breathing automatically begins. All of this amounts to a clash of wills. The parent must win it.

"The main components," the doctor said, eyeing a dessert wagon and trying to turn away from it, "are total love and total truth. Love is shown, not said. Truth is said and shown. If a child asks about sex, answer all questions bluntly and permit the youngster to control the depth of the questioning.

"If you don't answer all the questions, the child is prone to experiment with the opposite sex to satisfy curiosity. It is impossible to enunciate hard rules, but love, truth and education come close to good mental health."

There is a Mental Health Society listed in your phone book. It costs $2 to join. In return, you will get good brochures with helpful guidelines free. It's as good for parents as it is for children.

Dr. Berlien sipped his coffee and left. He really digs kids. He has been married thirty years. "We were never blessed with any," he said. . . .

Americans in Viet Nam Are Serving Millions of People

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — There was an art festival at the White House on Monday. It took the time and attention of the President of the United States. The occasion had a praiseworthy purpose. But there is something far more important which needs the time and attention of the nation's Chief Executive right now. It's the wavering morale of the parents and relatives of the more than 50,000 American boys who are fighting the war in Viet Nam.

These families cannot know what is going on in the jungles of Viet Nam just by reading the newspapers, and naturally little mention of individuals is made unless there are casualties. Meanwhile, what the critics are saying, both here and abroad, is widely publicized. The impression is given that it is a useless war and that the lives of the American boys are being sacrificed in vain.

The real truth, however, is that the Americans in Viet Nam are performing a service not only for the 190 million people in the United States, but also for the hundreds of millions of human beings in other countries who are being protected against a nuclear war because of the steadfastness and resoluteness of America's armed forces.

President Johnson is conscious of the worries and anxieties of the families of the Americans who are in Viet Nam. But he admitted yesterday that he had a difficult time replying to a letter from a mother whose son was en route to Viet Nam. He said he told her the nation's liberty and freedom are so precious that her son's service is needed in Viet Nam. But there has not yet been a definitive declaration telling the parents and relatives of the members of the armed forces of the United States why the mission in Southeast Asia is so vitally important.

President Johnson could readily dramatized at a ceremony in the White House the reasons why American troops are in Viet Nam. A delegation of parents of soldiers, airmen and sailors in Southeast Asia could be brought to the White House at government expense so that the President personally could explain the war and what it means not only to the American people, but to the world as a whole. Such an occasion would serve also to remind the parents of many boys who have not yet gone to Viet Nam that if a crisis comes, they too, must be prepared for the great sacrifices that are necessary to prevent a nuclear war.

President Johnson did make a generalized speech on April 7 at John Hopkins University in Baltimore, but what he said then about Viet Nam needs reiteration. Mr. Johnson declared:

"Tonight Americans and Asians are dying for a world where each people may choose its own path to change.

"This is the principle for which our ancestors fought in the valleys of Pennsylvania. It is a principal for which our sons fight tonight in the jungles of Viet Nam.

"Viet Nam is far away from this quiet campus. We have no territory there, nor do we seek any. The war is dirty and brutal and difficult. And some 400 young men, born into an America that is bursting with opportunity and promise, have ended their lives on Viet Nam's steaming soil.

"Why must we take this painful road? Why must this nation hazard its ease, its interest, and its power for the sake of a people of far away?

"We fight because we must fight if we are to live in a world where every country can shape its own destiny and only in such a world will our own freedom be finally secure . . .

"Over this war — and all Asia —is another reality: the deepening shadow of Communist China. The rulers in Hanoi are urged on by Peking. This is a regime which has destroyed freedom in Tibet, which has attacked India and has been condemned by the United Nations for aggression in Korea. It is a nation which is helping the forces of violence in almost every continent. The contest in Viet Nam is part of a wider pattern of aggressive purposes . . .

"We are also there to strengthen world order. Around the globe, from Berlin to Thailand, are people whose well-being rests in part on the belief that they can count on us if they are attacked. To leave Viet Nam to its fate would shake the confidence of all these people in the value of an American commitment and in the value of America's word. The result would be increased unrest and instability, and even wider war . . .

"We will not be defeated. We will not grow tired. We will not withdraw, either openly or under the cloak of a meaningless agreement."

The President could say a lot more at a White House ceremony and awaken an appreciation of the service being rendered by brave American boys as they risk their lives so that their families and their fellow Americans at home may be spared the horrors of a nuclear war.

Governor Signs Bills Increasing Weekly Benefits

By GERRY MCLAUGHLIN

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller capped his victory in a war of wills by approving today his bills to increase weekly benefits for unemployed, sick and disabled workers by $5.

The Democratic - controlled Legislature earlier passed measures to provide $10 raises, but the Republican governor rejected them on the ground industry could not bear the added expense.

Employers pay most of the cost of the unemployment insurance and workmen's compensation programs.

These were other developments:

— The governor signed a measure to require the state to reimburse counties and the City of New York for a third of the cost of constructing new public nursing homes or expanding existing structures.

—Assembly Democrats defeated Tuesday, 67-53, the governor's plan to authorize the state to acquire land along state highways as a means of preserving scenic beauty and blocking the spread of billboards.

— Rockefeller signed a bill clearing the way for voters to decide this November whether the state should sell $200 million in bonds to expand a low-income housing program and raise the state subsidy for such projects by $9 million.

—The governor approved one anti-pornography bill and vetoed two others on the ground they contained constitutional flaws.

—The Senate passed and sent to the governor a bill to require vaccination of children against infantile paralysis before they are permitted to enter school.

Jubilant Time Awaits White At Home Today

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A jubilant homecoming awaited space- walking astronaut Edward H. White II today in this historic city, the place of his birth 34 years ago.

White, who thrilled millions with his breath-taking June 3 stroll in space outside the Gemini 4 spacecraft, was expected to arrive about midmorning at International Airport.

San Antonio and Bexar County proclaimed this "Ed White Day" and arranged a whirlwind six-hour schedule, starting with a winding downtown motorcade.

Accompanying the astronaut were his wife; their two children, Bonnie Lynn, 9, and Eddie III, 11; and his parents, retired Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Edward H. White of St. Petersburg, Fla.

In a solemn ceremony after the parade White was to place a wreath at the door of the Alamo, an old mission often called the cradle of Texas independence.

It was at the Alamo that Gen. Santa Anna's Mexican army wiped out a band of Texas soldiers.

As San Antonio readied its native son welcome for White, similar plans were afoot for a celebration in Jackson, Mich., for his sidekick in space, astronaut James A. McDivitt.

This was their third straight day of post-flight celebrations. Thursday McDivitt and White go to Washington, where President Johnson will present them the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Exceptional Service Award medal.

The afternoon scheduled called for White to visit Ft. Sam Houston and the School of Aerospace Medicine at Brooks Air Force Base.

White's birth certificate shows he was born at 6:20 a.m., Nov. 14, 1930, in what then was the station hospital at Ft. Sam Houston, a sprawling Army post inside the city limits.

White lived here only until he was a few weeks old. His father was then a captain in the U.S. Army Air Corps stationed at Kelly Field.

Engineers to Return

OSWEGO, N.Y. (AP)—Operating engineers were ready to resume work today on a $90-million nuclear power plant here following a short-lived strike over bargaining rights.

The engineers, members of Local 545, went on strike Tuesday after the local, which represents 250 workers, said that its right to represent surveyors was not recognized.

Few Prairie Chickens

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — Prairie chickens, once in the millions in Illinois and surrounding states in the Midwest, are close to extinction. Apparently few people care except a few conservation-biologists. There are now no more than 500 or 600 birds left.

Dominican Action Tarnishes U.S. In Latin America

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The United States risked its good-neighbor image by its military action in the Dominican Republic. The image now is tarnished in many Latin-American eyes.

But even as the Dominican crisis drags on, threatening to be worse in the long run than when it began, the end results for some of Latin America may turn out better than had been expected at the outset.

That depends on Latin Americans.

Some consolation for whatever loss of prestige the United States may have suffered from the Dominican intervention can come from a few unexpected results in Latin-American countries.

It all could be nullified, however, at any moment by one more crisis like the Dominican Republic—the next time not on a little Caribbean island but in a mainland country, such as Guatemala, for example, where such a crisis would hit with explosive force.

Barring such an explosion, however, some Latin-American governments seem to have been strengthened, to have more confidence than before in the face of extremist threats. Some have tartly back-sassed Uncle Sam to the extent that noticeably more foreign policy independence may be developing.

One well-informed U.S. source says that would be all to the good. The U.S. aim, he says, should be development of Latin-American policies independent of United States and Communist camps. He contends this would help Latin politics on the road to more internal stability.

Feelings in Hispanic America were bruised by the U.S. military action in the Caribbean. Even in countries which supported U.S. efforts to raise an inter-American force the U.S. troop landings were condemned by some leaders. Some said it would give a new handle to extremists and a new point of attack from which to launch violence.

The wild outbreaks failed to materialize in most cities. Where there were demonstrations, they were tied in with domestic complaints and local issues. The Dominican Republic was dragged in for window dressing.

There was little mass support in any case.

Denunciation of the U.S. military action by some governments seemed to shield them from attack on this score from the extreme left. Sassing Uncle Sam appeared, in effect, to strengthen them, though in many instances political leaders carefully saw to it that denunciations did not get out of hand.

Some moderate and obviously responsible Latin-American leaders see, as a result of the crisis, a chance to bolster stability in South America. They expressed belief that more show of local independence of the United States in foreign policy would help in that direction.

Funds for Library

Editor, The Freeman

I am writing this letter in response to the questions Mr. Robert MacDonald raised in his letter of June 11 concerning the Kingston City Library. Actually, this is the first time anyone has publicly questioned our proposal and I welcome the opportunity to repeat the facts.

WILLIAM F. SCISM

Marine Private First Class William F. Scism recently returned to the States after serving with the 4th Marine Expeditionary Brigade in the Dominican Republic. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Scism of 59 Harwich Street, Kingston. At the present time, Pfc. Scism is a member of the Motor Transport Section of the 10th Marine Artillery Regiment Based at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

It was apparent that Mr. MacDonald did not have sufficient information, and this was really the basis of his misconceptions.

The Kingston Library never had any objection to sharing a grant from the Board of Education with other area libraries. As a matter of fact, our Board tried to meet with the Boards of all the other area libraries to discuss a cooperative budgetary proposal. Out of two requested meetings, only one library bothered to send one representative.

As to Mr. MacDonald's fear that aid to the Kingston Library will open the door to requests from the fire departments, Senate House Museum and Girl and Boy Scouts, any support would be illegal to those agencies. State Education Law does, however, permit school districts to provide support to public libraries because they are chartered educational institutions.

The Ellenville, Onteora and Saugerties school districts presently provide support to their public libraries, as example.

The next misconception which Mr. MacDonald had, related to the proximity of the Kingston High School. Actually the basis for our request had been heavy student usage, especially non-resident usage which we cannot charge or stop. School libraries close very shortly after the school day ends.

These students require access to a good library in order to fulfill assignments and to develop a sound background for further education. (In contrast, no student has to join the Girl or Boy Scouts to get through school.) Other area libraries do not have the collection, hours, professional staff or services to meet this educational responsibility.

If Mr. MacDonald is concerned about his taxes if the Board of Education tried to develop one strong library for everyone in the district to use in Kingston, then he would really have cause for alarm if his township had to duplicate the facilities of the Kingston Library.

The last misconception Mr. MacDonald had, concerned use of money by the Board of Education for schools. Actually, a Board of Education is responsible for all education, elementary through secondary. Now it even includes adult and specail education. If no decent library exists in the district for the use of its students, then obviously it affects the education of those students. School tax money has been used to support public libraries in New York State since 1835.

Sincerely,
DONALD J. SAGER
Director

Democrats Aim For Adjournment On Next Tuesday

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Democratic majority leaders called up for action today a resolution setting the final adjournment of the 1965 legislative session for next Tuesday.

The firm guarantee of a fixed date was demanded by Republican minority leaders in return for their help in solving the major problem remaining in the tumultuous marathon session.

With the quitting date set, GOP leaders were ready to help Democrats pass a series of New York City fiscal bills that have been the major roadblock to winding up the session.

The bills would authorize New York City to borrow $500 million to meet its immediate financial needs against anticipated approval of a constitutional amendment that would enable the city to raise its real estate tax by 20 per cent in 1967.

These were other developments Tuesday.

—The Democratic majorities passed, over nearly solid Republican opposition, a bill to repeal the Condon-Wadlin Law providing for mandatory dismissal of public employes who strike. The Democratic proposal would retain a ban on strikes but substitute a plan of collective bargaining and binding arbitraion.

—The Republican governor signed a Democratic bill placing on the November ballot the question of whether there should be a state constitutional convention in 1967. The chief business of a convention would be the drafting of a permanent plan for allocating seats in the Legislature on a population basis.

—Within hours after the governor signed the convention bill, the Senate approved and sent to the Assembly a measure to speed the timetable by holding a special election on the quesion in July, which would enable the convention to meet next spring.

—Rockefeller signed today bills to raise weekly benefits for unemployed, sick and disabled worked by $5.

—The governor also approved a bill placing on the November ballot the question of whether the state should borrow an additional $200 million to expand its low income housing program.

Producers Try Plays

NEW YORK (AP) — Lehman Engel, veteran conductor of Broadway musicals, heads a new theatrical production division for Columbia Pictures-Screen Gems. The firm, branching into financing and production of stage ventures, has appointed Engel as executive director of the program. Activities are planned in both New York and London.

When a sauce contains cream, it is best to heat it to serving temperature without boiling. If flour thickens the sauce it should be brought to boiling (so the flour will cook) before the cream is added.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By Sophie Miller

Those who have the Sunday New York News, Coloroto Magazine of May 23, 1965, if they look on Page 21 on top, they will see a picture of Edward Albrecht of Kingston. Mrs. Lottie Wood, my neghbor brought me the paper. This illustrated article shows and tells about retired Capt. (of the Kingston Fire Department) Edward (better known as Yank) Albrecht's work with the Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Center. It shows how he designs and constructs special furniture for the children at the CP Center.

"Yank" Albrecht also collects and repairs old toys and then distributes them to underprivileged children. "Yank" Albrecht is from my seventh ward, and has invited me to see his garden of roses, with which he has great talent. He has it seems hundreds of bushes of all varities, and is only too happy to advise anyone in his neighborhood with a rose bush that isn't doing too well. Because of the work that "Yank" does for others and his lovely garden and home he is a happy retired man, and very popular in our part of the town.

I have "Old Gardens of Kingston" written by Julia McEntee Dillion who was known as the foremost artist of flowers in her time. She writes about rose gardens in her little book. The other day during the heavy rain or cloudburst I had a chance to witness rain uptown and down, and found that it effects the level streets of uptown as the water does not have a chance to run off, and lakes were formed. Downtown the water has somewhere to run and does, so you can at least step off the curb. I have always lived on a hill and like it, as there is always a view. Kingston is a very interesting city because of flat lands and hills, and during real hot weather, Rondout and downtown seems cooler and has some breeze, rather than the central part of Broadway and uptown.

I just received a very nice little book called Senate House Story by Miss Katherine D. Millard of 30 Henry Street, Kingston, New York 12401. Miss Millard was the historic site attendant of the Senate House from 1944 to 1962 so knew the house well, spending so many hours in it, winter and summer. This is how her book starts: "I am a very old house; to be exact two hundred and eighty-nine years old. As I think back over the years many memories come to me, some pleasant, some sad and some very exciting. . . . It is said, that I am the oldest Public Building in the United States, and that because the first Senate of New York State held their first meeting here in 1777."

I do hope that the Board of Education with all their millions will find it able to buy some of these little books from Miss Millard while they are available. Perhaps this little book can be used as a reading lesson, as it is written with sympathy and kindness for the old house and gives it the personality it deserves. Private printing such as I take it Miss Millard paid for herself, is usually made in small quantities so those historians and collectors who care for the old landmarks should acquire it before this first edition is run out. There is a very old print of the Senate House on the front cover.

Readers can hardly realize the cost of private printing of little historic items, while the government runs off no end of booklets, brochures and just printing of miscellaneous trivia that is never read, yet will never lift a finger to help creative historic items like these, and it seems the educational system couldn't care less to acquire historic items. I find when I tell youngsters about the Fulton stamp coming out Aug. 19, 1965 in Kingston, they ask, "Who is Fulton, what's the Clermont?" Yet strangely I found foreigners do know.

Corvair Corsa Sport Coupe (Monzas offer up to 140-hp rear-engine sizzle)

Up to 180 hp strong CORVAIR CORSA by Chevrolet

Take the dullest day you can imagine. Add a sports-minded Corvair Corsa. Have it equipped with a 180-hp engine. And you've just discovered a new source of sunshine.

Deep bucket seats, deep-twist carpeting and deeply recessed instruments. Front doors with map pockets. An electric clock with a sweep-second hand.

A nimble 4-wheel independent suspension ride. Easy steering. Short turning. A trip on a sandy beach with nary a spinning wheel. A trip up a huge hill with nary the time to catch your breath (that 180-hp engine is the most powerful Six made in America today).

Wide door openings. Increased entrance height. More shoulder room than ever before. A peach of a trunk up front. And rear seat passenger room you'd expect only in a larger car.

So come on in. Get to know what fun it can be to go places and do things again that maybe you haven't done in years.

August 7 Parade March Given

Vols Praise Efforts In Tank Truck Blast

Excellent work by the members of the Centerville Fire Department and other fire companies who assisted at the June 7 gasoline tank truck explosion, as well as the prompt action by the two dispatchers on duty at Fire Control Headquarters in Kingston, was recognized by Ulster County Fire Co-ordinator Winfred Snyder Tuesday night at the monthly meeting of the county volunteers.

Pays High Tribute

Snyder paid a high tribute to the excellent work of the firemen and the dispatchers for their work in battling the fire on June 7 at the Alfred Sylvester gas station on Route 212 at Pine Grove. A tank truck operated by Maurice Dayton, 26, Newburgh, caught fire while discharging a cargo of gasoline at the Sylvester station. Dayton drove the flaming truck from the gas station to the roadway where it exploded. Six persons were sprayed with flaming gasoline but the station was saved from destruction and loss of life was averted.

Snyder congratulated the firemen for their excellent work.

Captain Scotty Myers of the Centerville Fire Department remarked that the fire company could not have done the job it did had it not been for the assistance given them by other fire companies summoned through Mutual Aid.

Snyder reported that there had been 182 fire calls, 10 Mutual Aid calls, two inter-county calls, 20 emergency calls and five false alarms recorded at Fire Control headquarters during May. He suggested that there be a signal sounded on all fire sirens each day at noon. This would serve as a check to ascertain whether all sirens were operating and would augment the regular monthly test. The matter will be discussed by the individual fire companies for a later report.

150 at Session

The June meeting was held at Port Ewen with the Port Ewen Fire department acting as host. There were 32 companies represented with an attendance of 150 members. President Domenik Costantino of Highland presided.

The board of directors will meet at Highland July 29, along with the convention committee, to discuss final plans for the annual convention of the County Association.

A report by the convention committee disclosed that there will be 33 trophies awarded, including three which will be awarded to the Convention Queen and her court. To date 37 county companies have signified an intention to parade and there will be 10 guest companies, for a total of 47 companies in line. In addition to the fire companies participating in the parade there will be 17 Ladies Auxiliaries and 26 bands and drum corps. To date the total persons in line will exceed 2,600.

Instructions for the parade and positions of the companies in the line of march will be mailed out within three weeks.

Field Day Set Oct. 3

It was announced that the annual Field Day would be held Oct. 3 at the grounds of Ulster Hose Company No 5, Town of Ulster In case of rain the Field Day will be held Oct. 10

A trophy donated by Kingston Lodge 970, Loyal Order of Moose, of Kingston will be awarded in 1966. The trophy was accepted by the county organization on Tuesday night and the association will later announce to whom it was awarded. It will not be awarded this year but at the convention to be held in Kingston in 1966.

Ulster County Fire Chiefs Association presented to the Highland convention committee a trophy which will be awarded to the best appearing company in line. The Fire Chiefs next meeting will be July 9 at Milton.

It was announced the next meeting of the Fire Police would be at Clintondale in August.

New members included Arthur Young of Saugerties, Nelson Hoff and Howard Wolven of Saxton, Gerald Beaver of Port Ewen, Joseph Rizzo of Highland and Paul Smith of Kingston.

The Association was welcomed to Port Ewen by Frank Chappie, president, and following the business meeting refreshments were served at the Port Ewen Firehouse.

The next meeting will be July 20 when Spring Lake Fire Company will be host.

Rosendale Votes For Police Car

In a "show of hands" vote following a public hearing Tuesday night, voters of the Town of Rosendale voted 69 to 47 in favor of acquiring a police car for use by the town constables in patroling the township.

The public hearing called by the town board was held at Grange Hall with an estimated 200 persons in attendance. Included in the attendance were a number of residents of the village. Only residents of the town were eligible to vote, since the Village of Rosendale maintains its own police force.

No action was taken by the town board following the vote. Unless a special meeting is called prior to the regular meeting on July 7, no action is expected by the town board until next month.

Councilman Karl Stobel, who had been named a committee by the town board to investigate and report on the matter, said that the sum of $5,000 had been included in the 1965 budget to cover the cost of purchasing or leasing a car. He said that the cost or use of a private car based on mileage was greater than the cost of lease or purchase of a town car. Quoting the cost for a two weeks period he said that the cost of gas was $8.09 for 695 miles whereas if the constables used their private car and were paid on a mileage basis the cost would be $55.60.

He pointed out that the car would be used only for police work and not for transportation of constables to and from work. The plan was for a four-hour patrol each 24 hours with a staggered coverage of the town. The car would be subject to call on a 24-hour basis. It was suggested a new car be acquired both from an economical viewpoint and also from a safety viewpoint.

Supervisor George Mollenhauer explained the comprehensive insurance costs and called for a show of hands with the result the proposal was approved 69 to 47.

The purpose of the meeting was for voicing of opinion by voters of the town. A number of persons spoke pro and con after the proposal and purpose of the meeting had been explained.

Arrested on Parkway

Accused of third degree burglary, Paul Faircloth, 20, Wallkill, was arrested Tuesday by state police on the Taconic Parkway, after the youth allegedly broke into the Todd Hill Service Station. Faircloth waived preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace A. Allerton Morey, Town of Washington. The case was referred to the grand jury.

Electric Heating Costs More All The Way: Motzkin

Installation construction costs for electric heating of the Ulster Community College at Stone Ridge would be more costly than installation of oil heat, is the contention of Arthur P. Motzkin of the Kingston Oil Supply Corportation.

Motzkin appeared before the board of supervisors last Thursday when a proposal that the college be heated by electricity, as recommended by the college trustees and the architect, was endorsed. At that time he spoke, quoting figures from other school installations, which indicated not only was the cost of heating greater by electricity but that the initial installation cost was greater.

Error in Report

In a report of the session it was incorrectly stated that he had said electric installation costs would be less than oil.

"Since everyone including the advocates of electric heating, agree that fuel oil would be considerably less costly to heat the building involved the only question was one of initial construction costs", Motzkin stated.

"My evidence shows that the contention that the initial cost of electric heating is lower than an oil fired hot water heating system is erroneous and experience throughout the country documents evidence of this fact that it costs more initially to build an electrically heated school", Motzkin said.

Speak on Subject

Prior to the vote by the board to approve the electric heating plan as recommended by the architect and the college trustees, an opportunity was given both an engineer for Central Hudson and the oil industry to speak on the subject.

No figures as to cost were cited by the Central Hudson's consulting engineer, who advised the board to go along with the recommendations of the trustees. Motzkin cited figures of other schools and cited instances where schools had reverted to oil after erecting electrically heated schools.

Ira V. D. Warren, of 19 Len Court, noted area newsman and editor, who recently underwent a stomach operation at Kingston Hospital, was reported making satisfactory recovery there today. He entered the hospital June 4, and is expected to return home within the next few days.

Two Are Endorsed

Bumping Into You Again

CASPER, Wyo. (AP)—Police Officer Dave Dovala investigated a minor collision at a Casper intersection involving cars driven by Donald Couture, 26, and Beverly Wolture, 25, both of Casper. The next day, Dovala investigated another minor accident. Sure enough, the cars involved were driven by Couture and Miss Wolture.

Cub Pack 9 Tours West Point Academy

A group of 30 Cub Scouts and approximately 75 parents and friends left the parking lot of Redeemer Lutheran Church recently on a field trip to West Point.

Arriving at 11:30 a. m., the group viewed the Cadet Parade. After having a picnic lunch some visited the Museum while others viewed the grounds.

Cookie Night!

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Three neighbors still talk about the night it rained cookies. The "shower" was discovered by Stanley Morris who heard a noise that sounded like an explosion. Stepping outside, Morris found his backyard and garage roof littered with bags of cookies. It was the same situation at the homes on either side of his. There was no name or identifying clue on the bags. Morris speculated the cookies may have been part of an air cago, but a check of local bakeries failed to turn up any who had made such shipments.

Dear Abby . . .

Try A Little Subtlety!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 22 and Don is 26. We've been dating (steadily) for nearly two years and I'm sure it's love. There is only one thing we have ever fought about, and that is my make-up. Don doesn't want me to wear any make-up at all! Abby, I am no natural beauty, and I NEED make-up. I feel positively naked without it. I don't wear a lot compared to most girls. I use a foundation base, just a hint of rouge and a tiny bit of blue eye shadow. Being a dishwater blonde, my eyebrows and eyelashes are practically invisible, so I need a touch of eyebrow pencil and mascara. I use an eye liner, but that is considered fashionable these days. The lipstick I use is so pale it can hardly be noticed.

Everyone else thinks I look great. Last Saturday night Don told me I looked like a "——". (If I used the word, this would never get in the paper.) We had a terrible fight over it and I asked him to take me home. We haven't spoken since. Abby, I do love Don. He would make a wonderful husband if it weren't for this thing he has against my using cosmetics. What do you suggest I do?

DEPRESSED

DEAR DEPRESSED: Kiss and make up. But in the future, "make up" more subtly.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: I was a widow for 16 years. I met a man and married him before I knew very much of his ways. I have worn pants around the house and sometimes to work because they are comfortable and convenient. He never objected to my wearing pants until after we were married. Now he is making a big thing about it. I like to do my housework and marketing in pants and always have. When my husband sees me in pants, he acts like a madman and says he won't look at me until I put on a dress. He says I look ridiculous in pants.

Abby, I am 52 years old, weigh 140 pounds and am 5'7". I am not fat and I don't wear tight pants. We have had some pretty bad times over this and have almost separated twice because of it. I think if he really loved me he would let me wear pants. He says if I really loved him, I'd wear dresses. I would like your advice.

LIKES PANTS

DEAR LIKES: It is not unusual for a man to want to be the only one in his family to wear the pants. Let him. It's him. It's a small sacrifice to keep the peace.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: What do you think an eleven-year-old girl should do to get her allowance raised? My jobs around the house are to make beds, wash dishes, dust, keep my own room clean, set the table, clear the table and empty the trash. And all for a measly 55c a week. I've talked to my mother about it and she says, "It's all we can afford, honey." Then she drops it. What do you think?

"K"

DEAR "K": I think that you earn your allowance, which is commendible. But if that's all your mother can afford you ought to drop it honey.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: So the father of girls is complaining Ha! I have a husband, 3 sons and my brother living here. I'm the only woman in the house and with all the fighting, wrestling and arguing the place is like a madhouse.

I can't put my car in the garage because they are always building something in there that never gets finished. I can't get in the bathroom because one of the men is always taking a shower, shaving or polishing his shoes. There is no room for my soiled laundry because of all the greasy clothes they leave behind after trying to fix somebody's car. I can't find a place to sit down because of the tools, TV and radio parts lying around. I can choke on their cologne. I iron 15 to 20 pairs of trousers a week and too many shirts to count.

If I manage to live through it until the boys are married, they'll probably bring their wives here to live. I'll trade places with "Father of Girls" any day.

Jim Jacoby asks his father another question today.

Jim: "When you played as Sidney Lenz' partner in the Culbertson-Lenz match what were the strongest and weakest parts of his game?"

Oswald: "They were rather closely related. The strongest part of his game was his play of no-trump contracts. The weakest part was a no-trump complex that led him to many three no-trump contracts when he should have been in a major suit game. This hand is a good example."

Jim: "We have always stressed the importance of responding with one of a four card major suit to any minor suit opening by partner. If Sidney had just responded one heart you would have raised hearts and there would have been no trouble about that contract. Did he make three no-trump?"

Oswald: "He certainly did and without any great ado. Ely Culbertson cashed his four good diamonds and shifted to a spade. Of course, Sidney was lucky that the diamonds were 4-4 and not 5-3 but the fact that he made the rest of the tricks was skill, not luck."

Jim: "Skill is right! I assume that he started by running off four heart tricks and ending up in dummy. Then he must have led the jack of clubs."

Oswald: "Right! Sidney had noted that Ely had shown the four top diamonds and the jack of hearts. If Ely had also held the queen of clubs he would have opened the bidding."

Jim: "It was still mighty fine play and a splendid recovery from a bad bid."

Roots of Civilization

MANCHESTER, England (AP) —It's an act of barbarism to deny children the opportunity of studying Greek or Latin, says Sir Basil Blackwell, president of the Classical Association. Sir Basil, 74, said that mastery of a classical language extracted a knowledge and understanding of the intellectual roots of our civilization which could be achieved in no other way.

Taylor, 2 Gens. Huddle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor conferred today with the two Vietnamse generals expected to hold the highest two posts in a new government. There were indications the United States was not pleased with developments.

Taylor met simultaneously with Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van-Thieu and Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky. Thieu, defense minister, has been named by the new military junta as its chairman, and presumably also as Vietnamese chief of state.

Ky, 34, commander of the air force, was named by the junta as chief of its executive section, and it is expected he will be named premier to form a new war cabinet.

While U.S. military men generally like and respect the air force commander, he has frequently expressed disapproval of American diplomatic policies.

The junta took over the reins last weekend when Chief of State Phan Khac Suu, Premier Phan Huy Quat and the National Legislative Council all resigned in a political deadlock.

County Marine Is One of Two Given 4 Years in Prison

Two young Marines, one a resident of Mt. Marion, were sentenced Tuesday by Solicitor Robert Swain at Asheville, N. C., to four years in prison.

Privates Chris Wirth, 22, of Mt. Marion, and Danny Bruckner, 21, Massillon, Ohio, pleaded guilty previously to robbing and beating Dr. Philip Nelson, 52-year-old psychiatrist of Greenville, N. C. The youths also were given two-year suspended sentences.

Nelson was found badly beaten in a Black Mountain Motel room May 30. He denied on the witness stand on Monday that he made sexual advances to the defendants. He said he picked them up hitchhiking in Durham, gave them some money and drinks and left them in a motel.

The psychiatrist said he attended a meeting of psychiatrists in Morganton and returned later in the day to visit the pair. When he entered the motel room, he said, the pair jumped him.

Solicitor Swain accepted the guilty pleas to reduced charges of assault, larceny and temporary larceny of an automobile, after it was agreed the defendants would receive substantial sentences and would not appeal their convictions.

Swain said if original charges of larceny of an automobile and felonious assault were left to stand, another trial would have been necessary and this could have been an inconvenience to Dr. Nelson, the chief prosecution witness.

Wirth and Bruckner were taken into custody after the alleged motel room incident, when they wrecked Dr. Nelson's car in Henderson County, N. C.

Tension Mounts

VIENNA (AP) — Tension mounted today in flood-stricken communities along the rampant Danube River as a new wave of water rushed down from melting snowfields and glaciers in the Austrian Alps.

The wave was the sixth within four weeks of rains and thunderstorms in one of the worst disasters in the four-nation Danubian basin. Yugoslavia so far has borne the brunt of the floods with thousands of homes destroyed.

Carl L. Norden

best in the business, had some disadvantages.

Among other things, it was a purely optical device. The target had to be located by eye while the aircraft was miles away. Any cloud cover or darkness rendered it useless.

Its gyroscopes were sensitive to buffeting and shock — which often occurred when flak from the ground or fire from interceptor planes came close or there was a natural turbulence in the air.

Use of he sight required the bomber to hold a perfectly straight course and constant altitude as he headed in on the target. This simplified the work of the antiaircraft batteries and enemy interceptors.

Thousands of the Norden sights were produced for the Army and Navy air forces in World War II. They continued to be important equipment for bomber aircraft into the Korean war.

Radar Computer Arrives

Then technology caught up with the old standby.

The radar-computer system arrived. It could see through clouds or darkness. With its electronic brain, it could compute in split seconds. But it could not be toted in a small black bag by the bombardier walking to his waiting plane. Radar-computer sighting equipment in present-day bombers weighs hundreds or thousands of pounds.

For several years, Norden bombsights have been on the surplus sales market. Anyone who wants the equipment built into them, or anyone who just has a sentimental yen for a Norden bombsight can buy one.

Thayer Denies Merger of 3 Gotham Papers

A partial merger or some other joint cost-saving venture may be the result of reported talks between three major New York City newspapers, it was learned today.

Reliable sources have reported negotiations between The New York Herald Tribune, The World-Telegram and Sun and The Journal-American and that at least two possibilities are in the wind:

One was that the two afternoon papers would merge, that The Herald Tribune would continue as a morning paper and that the two papers left would print in one plant under some form of joint ownership allowing them to share production costs.

Still another possibility was raised that the three papers would share plant facilities but maintain their separate identities.

Meanwhile, Walter N. Thayer, president of the Tribune and owner of Radio Station WGHQ in Kingston denied that the three newspapers would merge.

Thayer was quoted in a New York report that "there hasn't been a discussion about merging but there have been discussions about common plant facilities and printing facilities, and they will continue."

Although New York City reports have rumored and predicted that one or more papers would be closed, last night's WNBC's-TV Gabe Pressman made the first actual public announcement.

On that program, Pressman said that "top-secret negotiations apparently have been going on for some time.

"The reported plan," according to Pressman's TV report, said "is to merge the three dailies into one newspaper with morning and afternoon editions." Pressman added the possibilty the merger will take place by mid-summer.

Reports at various times since 1958 indicated that a new building was under consideration, and at one time the former Athletic Field off Cornell Street and Smith Avenue was reported as a possible site for a new central structure.

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, some years ago, also emphasized the need for a modernized post office building in the city.

(6) That there will be stronger punishments for "pushers" of narcotics;

(7) Permit law enforcement agencies to use the latest electronic devices in apprehending these criminals (wire tapping);

(8) That the public itself lose its feeling of apathy and that a campaign be undertaken urging letters and post cards be sent to elected officials particularly on the State and Federal levels.

Need More Men

The representative from the Narcotics Control Bureau who must remain unidentified, emphasized in his talk that the Department has a need for more assistance. His department is staffed by 15 men, he said, and these individuals must cover the entire State of New York.

Although the legislators in Albany recently budgeted for 15 additional staff members, he said, they also passed Article 33A of the Public Health Law which, in fact, doubles the duties and responsibilities of the department.

Asked the number of men needed to properly carry out the enforcement and investigational aspects of the department, the speaker said, "no less than 150 men."

Ulster County Investigator Mayone described the various narcotics now being used in this area and showed samples of them.

He said laws have been tightened regarding the use of airplane glue as a means of inducing intoxication, but the ordinary spices like nutmeg, cinnamon and mace, which are inhaled by youngsters and ultimately cause permanent damage of the brain and kidneys, are not regulated by law. He also reviewed the disasterous results obtained by using certain popular cough medicines.

It was also revealed that the new Article 33A, Public Health Law, will no longer permit doctors to phone in renewal of prescriptions to drug stores. Effective January, 1966, patients will have to obtain new prescriptions. The law will also regulate the sale of certain items containing drugs. Details of this new law will be published in The Freeman.

The BPW special committee will continue its study of the narcotics problem and will endeavor to interest other organizations to join them in this campaign.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — A vigorous stock market rally continued early this afternoon, although some gains were trimmed.

Stocks were up from the start as they resumed their strong recovery drive which began in the early afternoon.

Key stocks advanced from fractions to a point or two along a broad front which took in most major groups — including steels, motors, rails, utilities, chemicals, oils, airlines, rubbers, coppers and electrical equipments among others.

Some of the higher-priced or more volatile issues gained two or three points.

Encouraging statements from Washington still backgrounded the recovery although most Wall Street analysts described the rise as a rebound from a badly oversold condition.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 2.5 at 322.6 with industrials up 3.7, rails up 1.2 and utilities up 1.5.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 5.03 at 879.60. An hour earlier it was up by 6.95.

The trimming of the best early gain was ascribed by brokers to quick profit taking by traders.

First-hour volume was 2.13 million shares, even heavier than Tuesday's 2.06 million which was the largest for any first hour since Oct. 19, 1937 when 2.21 million shares changed hands.

American Photocopy looked as if it would be the most active stock for the fourth straight session, holding 1 point of a rise which stretched to 1½ points at best.

Prices advanced in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

Knights to Hold Dinner-Dance at Beacon, June 26

Hudson Valley Chapter and Conference, Knights of Columbus is holding its annual Grand Knight and Past Grand Knight dinner-dance Saturday, June 26, at Dutchess Manor, Route 9D, Beacon.

There are 35 local councils in the conference from Ulster, Dutchess, Orange, Rockland and Putnam Counties, and the event is to honor present grand knights and introduce those newly elected to the post in the Hudson Valley

Proceeds go to send a crippled child from the valley to the Shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes at Lourdes, France.

All Knights in the area are invited to attend and bring as many as they wish. State Deputy Herman P. Wolkenberg of Middletown will attend with all other state officers.

William B. Fairley Sr., grand knight of Kingston Council 275 has further information if desired as does Bernard F. O'Neil, district deputy. Reservations close Friday.

Planning to attend are Grand Knight and Mrs. Fairly, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bruno, Joseph Saccoman, and District Deputy O'Neil.

RVCS Budget Is Approved, Trio Named to Board

A $2.2 million budget was approved and three Board of Education members were reelected for new terms on Tuesday by voters in the Rondout Valley Central School District.

The vote on the $2,254,425 budget was 213-121. A school district official said the 1965-66 budget is approximately $158,000 more than the present operating budget. He said that no basic tax rate increase is anticipated. Based on per $1,000 of true value the rate this year was $15.58.

The official tax rate will not be determined until assessment figures are received, it was said.

Reelected school district trustees were Edward Hill of Rosendale and Herbert Siemer and J. R. Sheil both of Stone Ridge.

The voters also approved a proposition for the purchase of a 12-passenger carryall to replace a vehicle now in use. The vote was 258-75, with one void ballot. The cost of the carryall will not exceed $3,600.

Food Chain Makes stores in Cohoes, Troy, Schenectady, Poughkeepsie and Beacon, and five stores in Levittown, Long Island.

Further, Grand Union agrees that, for a period of 10 years, it will not acquire in any town in any county in which it operates a supermarket: (a) any chain of four or more retail food stores or (b) any single store or chain with total annual sales in excess of $5 million, unless after any such acquisition the combined Grand Union volume would be 5 per cent or less of the total food sales in said town or city, in which case no restrictions apply.

Can Reopen Matter

The FTC and Grand Union also agreed that should future litigation result in lesser restrictions being applied to a Grand Union competitor, the matter will be reopened for adjustment to bring the Grand Union order into conformity.

The agreement does not limit in any way, including acquisitions, the development of the company's general merchandise operations through its Grand Way Division, nor its food operations in areas other than where it is operating.

Today's agreement arises from a complaint filed originally in January, 1962. In this the FTC charged that Grand Union had violated the Cellar-Kefauver anti-merger law, Section 7 of the amended Clayton Act, through acquisition of the Empire and Sunrise stores. It was alleged by the FTC that the acquisitions tended to create a monopoly in retail food sales for Grand Union and to lessen competition in the affected areas.

Grand Union entered a general denial of the charges. Folowing a lengthy series of hearings, an FTC examiner dismissed the complaint in October, 1963. This decision was appealed by the FTC's lawyers to the full Federal Trade Commission. Today's agreement terminates the matter.

More Gunfire . . .

8:30 p.m. by Brazilian Gen. Hugo Panasco Alvim, commander of the Inter-American Force, and Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, the rebel chieftain.

U. S. Extends Lines

During the battle U.S. troops extended their lines four blocks into rebel territory beyond the power plant. An official military spokesman said the troops would pull back to the original boundary after they liquidated harassment in the area.

Col. Caamano called the outbreak of fighting "a form of pressure" by the OAS to "force us to accept an undignified solution."

Caamano's headquarters in the five-story Copello building was rocked by fire from paratroopers across the Ozama River. Almost all of its front windows were smashed by six mortar shells.

Use Inheritance Part As Cash Reserve

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "Recently, I inherited $25,000 which is at present in a savings account. I am 21-years-old, in college, and expect to be married in a year. My college expenses and wedding expenses have already been taken care of. Would you please advise what investments would be the best for me for maximum growth and maximum safety?" —L. R.

A) Please let me congratulate you on your forthcoming wedding and your fine inheritance. At the present relatively high state of the market. I believe you should invest no more than $15,000, leaving $10,000 in the savings bank as a cash reserve.

I suggest that you buy equal dollar amounts of Bristol-Myers —in pharmaceuticals, proprietary drugs (Bufferin) and toiletries (Clairol) — which is one of the best of all growth stocks; Winn-Dixie Stores, a food chain with a consistent record of gains in earnings and dividends: Northern Illinois Gas, a strong untility; and FMC Corporation, an excellent vehicle for capital enhancements.

Q) "I am a widow with a daughter in college. I am interested in stocks for liberal income and have a good savings account. I own 110 Campbell Taggart, 20 Eaton Manufacturing Co., 80 Sinclair Oil, 80 Dana Manufacturing, and 100 United Gas Corportation. Can you give me any advice?" — E. U.

A) Gladly. You have a generally good list of income stocks, I am pleased to say. Campbell Taggart is one of the more successful baking companies, operating mainly in the South and Southwest. Dana and Eaton operate in somewhat similar areas —mainly locomotive—but the dividend rate in each looks thoroughly secure. United Gas Corporation is a fully integrated gas system and is a safe investment, in my opinion. Sinclair oil yields only 3½ per cent. But there is a distinct possibility of a dividend increase this year, and I advise you to hold these shares.

Rioting Feared After Reds Kill German Veteran

BERLIN (AP)— West Berlin officials expressed fears today that rioting might break out Thursday at the Red wall after East Berlin guards shot and killed a German war veteran and critically wounded his fiance.

On Thursday, West Germany and West Berlin commemorate the 12th anniversary of the anti-Communist revolt in East Germany. The West Berlin government has called on citizens to attend a rally in front of City Hall.

The West German couple were shot while boating on the Teltow Canal Tuesday afternoon. They strayed a few feet into Communist territory.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The D. H. Fellows Construction Co. of East Syracuse, N.Y., has been awarded a $183,050 contract to build a hatchery building at the Cortland, N.Y., National Fish Hatchery.

The contract also calls for construction of a water system and a sanitary sewer system.

Four Barges Sunk

There was heavy antiaircraft fire over some of the targets but all the planes returned safely to the carrier, the spokesmen said.

Four Air Force pilots reported they destroyed the Hee Hung ferry connecting an island with a river bank in the Vinh area, destroyed four buildings and damaged seven others.

Four other Air Force pilots reported sinking four barges in the Vinh area and damaging three others. They said they also destroyed three bridges and a ferry approach about 15 miles north of Vinh.

In London, Laborite members of Parliament said Prime Minister Harold Wilson told them privately his government was making new attempts to halt U.S. bombings of North Viet Nam to clear the way for negotiations. They said Wilson indicated this effort may bear fruit soon.

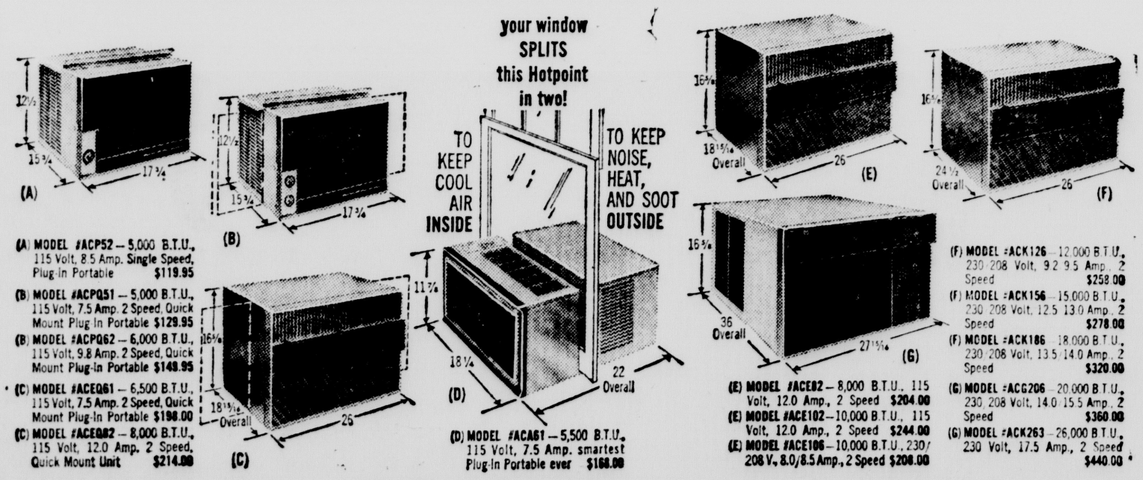

Wilson said in the House of Commons that secret consultations are under way but declined to give details.

Marine Unit at Viet Saved By Dog's Bark, Man's Bravery

By HAL BOYLE

LE MY, South Viet Nam (AP) — The warning bark of a puppy and the bravery of a corporal who kept firing after being wounded three times helped save a U.S. Marine platoon encircled by 50 Viet Cong.

The night action took place at a bridge less than half a mile south of here. This village has become the most contested ground in the Da Nang battle area.

Keep Seeping Back

It has been repeatedly cleared of the enemy, but they keep seeping back at night aboard river sampans.

"We had rebuilt two bridges they destroyed on our main supply road before we landed here," said Lt. Edward C. Riley, 23, Rochester, N.Y.

"We figured they'd try to hit the bridges again sooner or later, so we threw a defensive perimeter around them."

One bridge was guarded by a squad of 18 led by Sgt. Hilton O. Williams, 28, Greenville, Ala. It is a small, single-lane bridge only 20 feet long, but important beyond its size.

"That afternoon we picked up a small 7-week-old puppy and gave him some chow, and he stuck with us," said Sgt. Williams.

Puppy Growled

At 2:45 the next morning the puppy suddenly started growling.

"I heard something moving out there," said Lance Cp. Curtis R. Jackson, 21, Pollock, Tex., a tall, lanky man known as "Big Foot" because of his trouble in getting boots large enough to fit him.

"I heard something moving out there," said Lance Cp. Curtis R. Jackson, 21, Pollock, Tex., a tall, lanky man known as "Big Foot" because of his trouble in gettnig boots large enough to fit him.

Strange Bush

Williams leaped toward the front of the squad's position, Jackson toward the rear.

"In the darkness I saw what looked like a bush that hadn't been there before. I called for the password, and all at once the bush turned in to five men, and I started firing.

"And then there was firing from all sides. They had spent hours creeping up through the rice paddies, and they had us surrounded.

"They threw in a round of mortar, and then opened up with small arms and 30-caliber machine guns. Our men were all within 10 yards of our machine gun, and we fired back with everything we had.

"The first attack lasted for 15 minutes."

What happened to Corp. Jackson was this:

Ripped By Bullets

Before he could even get fully to his feet, two bullets ripped through his thighs, a third through a calf muscle. But he straightened up and shot a Viet Cong poised 25 feet away to throw a grenade. The grenade fell harmlessly to the ground 10 feet from him.

Jackson and another lance corporal, John McNeeley, Rankin, Ill., engaged at close range eight or nine Viet Cong trying to rush the squad's position.

After emptying his rifle, Jackson leveled his 45-automatic. Before he could pull the trigger, an enemy bullet hit his pistol and knocked the hammer off.

"Actually, that saved his life," said his commander, 2nd Lt. Tim Schwartz, 22, Latrobe, Pa. "If the bullet hadn't hit his pistol, it would have gone through his chest."

Calls for Rifle

But the embattled Texan yelled, "Throw me another rifle," then collapsed. During a lull he was evacuated by a helicopter which made a perilous landing guided only by four Marines holding flashlights.

The enemy made two more fruitless attacks on the bridges before pulling out just before daybreak. A recapitulation showed that the Viet Cong had suffered 11 known dead and 15 wounded.

Jackson, who is in good shape in an Okinawa hospital, was credited with killing one and wounding two. He has been recommended for a medal. Sgt. Williams, the only other Marine casualty, suffered slight shrapnel wounds.

"There's no doubt about it," he said. "Cpl. Jackson saved our rear position — he saved us all. And only the afternoon before I had chewed him out for going bare footed. He said his feet were hurting."

Phoenicia Cubs List Activities

During the past two months, the Cub Scouts of Pack 60, Phoenicia, have had their monthly Pack meetings and the Den Mothers have conducted weekly meetings assisting the boys in earning their rank badges plus the silver and gold stars. Cubmaster and Mrs. James Hefferan, are still putting the Webelos through their paces to meet the requirements of Cliff Segelken's Boy Scout Troop 60.

Due to the fact that the Cub Scout awards were not publicized, a bulletin board is being prepared and will be on display in Gordon's window, Phoenicia and the Big Indian Grocery Store. The board wil include the names of the present registered Cub Scouts, their ages, ranks and number of Gold and Silver Stars earned since becoming a Cub Scout Bobcat. When a Cub registers a new boy (the boy must file an application, submit the fee and plan to be a full-fledged Cub Scout with the approval and signatures of his parents or guardian) the new Cub's name will be inserted beside the Cub's name on the bulletin board. The people of the Town of Shandaken, as well as visitors, will know just what each Cub is doing and the Cub who registers the most boys will be given an award on Saturday, Aug. 21, the day of the Scout Picnic.

The next Pack meeting night will be on Thursday, June 24, at St. Francis de Sales Parish Hall, at 7:30 p. m. Cubmaster Hefferan advises all parents, guardians, relatives and friends of Pack 60 to attend as a very important statement, and facts, which concern the community will be discussed. Den Mothers will make sure the Cubs notify their families to keep Thursday, June 24, in mind that they won't forget to attend. This date is also the last day of school. Boy Scouts of Troop 60 will be in charge of the outdoor activity of the Cub Scouts while Cubmaster Hefferan presides at the meeting of the adults.

Conferences Urged

CHICAGO (AP) — To implement the current upsurge in Christian unity, the Rev. Dr. Harold Fey suggests that the Roman Catholic Church and the World Council of Churches hold periodical, joint "world conferences on issues of common concern." Dr. Fey, a professor at Chicago Theological Seminary, writes in the Christian Century (of which he formerly was editor) that such conferences could deal with the racial revolution, expanding population, secularism, disarmament and other current issues and "witnesses to the degree of unity God has given us and to the hope we have for more."

Schweppes is the original Bitter Lemon, invented in England in 1956.

"You can see the lemon in Schweppes Bitter Lemon. That's because Schweppes uses whole, fresh lemons. Juice, pulp, peel, everything."

So says Commander Whitehead, President of Schweppes (USA) Ltd.

"Schweppes invented Bitter Lemon," he continues. "It was our first new product in one hundred years, and we did not stint."

Schweppes uses whole, fresh lemons in making Bitter Lemon. Juice, pulp, peel, everything. Thus its tart, grown-up taste.

"Schweppes Bitter Lemon is the first adult soft drink," declares the Schweppesman, "the only one you can order without feeling like a yokel."

There are at least two more uses for Schweppes Bitter Lemon. It is an unobtrusive way to sit out a round or two. It is also the most versatile new mixer since Schweppes Tonic itself.

No matter how you use Bitter Lemon, always turn the bottle upside down before you open it.

That way, everyone gets his fair share of lemon morsels.

Get Schweppes in no deposit, no return bottles. They're convenient, and they guard the flavor, too.

Feel Laborites Will Be Forced Into Fall Vote

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON

LONDON (AP) — Like a man painfully trying to scale a high mountain, Prime Minister Harold Wilson seems in danger of sliding to electoral disaster.

Only the most biased of his Conservative opponents would dare to write the dynamic Wilson's political obituary yet. But the impression is spreading at home and abroad that his eight-month-old Labor government is fighting for its life and will be forced into a national election by the fall.

Among the most recent developments contributing to this impression:

Pound Sterling Weakens

—Britain's international trade took a sharp turn for the worse during May. The nation for the fifth successive month spent more abroad than it earned.

—The already wobbly pound sterling weakened again on world money markets. This pointed to a new financial crisis by October, when seasonal pressures on the pound are greatest.

—Laborites claim they have brought Britain's trade deficit down this year to half the 1964 average, when the Conservatives were ruling. But they also confess the national performance still is not nearly good enough.

—A Gallup poll published last week gave the Conservatives a 4½ per cent lead over the Laborites — enough to put them back into power if an election were held now. In the previous poll Labor led the Conservatives by 1¾ points.

What has gone wrong for Wilson?

To begin with, he scraped into office last October with a margin of only three votes in the 630-member House of Commons.

He inherited a massive fiscal crisis that compelled him to raise a series of multibillion-dollar loans to sustain the pound against devaluation.

Short of Expectations

Ever since, his administration has looked as if it were trying to do the splits between short-term emergency measures and long-term measures promised in its election program.

One result: Labor has failed to fulfill the excessive expectations aroused during the campaign.

Instead of the brave new society in which inefficiency, frustration and selfishness was to vanish, Britain has seemed to stumble and bumble along from one crisis to another. The government, playing for time, has had to make do with policies that have a secondhand look.

KHS Honors Two More Seniors in Assembly

Two seniors in addition to those mentioned in Tuesday's Freeman received Kiwanis Club scholarships at the annual Kingston High School awards assembly June 4.

John Jones and Gregor Munson were awarded $500 each in two installments of $250 each as part of the club's educational program.

A story appearing in The Freeman entitled "KHS Students Merit $8,505 at Annual Awards Assembly" failed to mention the names of these two students.

Their names were inadvertently omitted in putting the story into type and no fault lies with Kingston High School in furnishing the list of winners.

Hyde Park Man Hurt

John B. Wynes, 28, of East Park Road, Hyde Park, was injured at 4:45 a. m. today when his car went out of control and hit a tree off Route 32 about a tenth of a mile south of New Paltz village. Trooper Wallace Mahan of Highland said Wynes sustained a possible broken nose. He was driving his 1962 car south on the highway when it went off the rigrt side of the pavement, hit the tree headon and then spun clockwise and then came to a stop on a lawn. Trooper Sedlick investigated.

Senate Approves Two 1966 Plates

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York State drivers would get two license plates in 1966 for their motor vehicles under a bill that has been given final legislative action in the Senate.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. Stephen Greco, D-Erie, was sent to Gov. Rockefeller, but it was uncertain whether the bill will be signed.

The bill was passed Tuesday, 37-19, with Republicans casting most of the negative votes.

TV Reviews, Best Bets

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC's "Truth or Consequences" has been around for 24 years, 14 of them on radio.

Bob Barker, the handsome, silver-haired fellow who has been practical joker-in-chief during its 10 years in television, says he once figured there were seven basic ideas built into the show. When pressed recently, however, he could come up with only four:

The reunion, in which two sisters or a mother and son or two neighbors are unexpectedly brought together on stage after a lapse of years. This one was so good that Ralph Edwards, who owns "Truth or Consequences," spun off another show, "This Is Your Life," from it.

The joke played on an unsuspecting passerby on a street and filmed with a hidden camera. This also has had considerable success in a television package called "Candid Camera."

The gag involving husband and wife — with help secretly enlisted from one spouse to entrap the other.

"But the backbone of the show always has been and I guess always will be the business of picking a contestant from the audience and playing a joke on him," Barker said.

Barker says his most important function is to make spot selections of contestants who will react well and be entertaining.

"I operate mostly by intuition — and lots and lots of experience," he said. "If I can't pick them after 10 years, I'm overdue for a change of job."

Producers and networks are busy making slight changes and additions to old programs which, they fondly hope, will make them more attractive to viewers when they return next season.

After one foot-loose season, legislator Slattery of "Slattery's People," will acquire a romantic interest, Kathie Browne, playing a lady television commentator. He also will acquire a first name — James — after a whole year without one.

What, No ZIP

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles post office likes to stress the importance of accuracy when it comes to street addresses.

But no one is infallible, it seems.

Postmaster Leslie N. Shaw issued a news release announcing that his executive offices are being moved today to the new Federal Office Building. It listed the new address as 300 N. Spring St.

He was wrong by two blocks. The new building is at 300 N. Los Angeles St.

"I guess we got confused in the rush of moving," a spokesman said. "Anyway, we've left a forwarding address."

Navy Vet Named New Post 150 Commander

PAUL C. GARDNER

A World War 2 Navy veteran, Paul C. Gardner of Hillside Terrace, was elected commander of Kingston Post 150, American Legion, during the annual meeting Tuesday night.

Gardner, a Kingston resident for 29 years, succeeds Albert O. Sonnenberg. Sonnenberg was named assistant adjutant and trustee for three years.

Installation Saturday

The newly-elected officers will be officially installed during a dinner Saturday night, June 19, at the Post Home, 18 West O'Reilly Street. James Marquit, State Legion vice-commander, will be the guest speaker and installing officer.

Tickets for the dinner, scheduled at 7 o'clock, may be obtained from Joseph Santoroski, Joseph Mercier, Everett Emmick, Edward Scully, William Hanley, Alton Feistel, Albert O. Sonnenberg or Commander Gardner. Tickets, which must be purchased by Friday, also are available at the Post Home.

Three Vice-Commanders

Others elected without opposition were:

Robert V. Delanoy, Charles M. King and John C. Kuehn, as vice-commanders; Irwin J. Thomas, adjutant; John F. Quigley, treasurer; the Rev. Clarance E. Brown, chaplain; Harford S. Shultis Jr., sergeant-at-arms; Ferdinand A. Bayona, historian; Charles L. Culver, service officer; Meyer Kaplan, welfare officer and Frank T. Roedell, athletic officer.

Members named to the executive committee included William F. Hanley, George C. Heppner, Joseph E. Sills Jr. and Raymond W. West.

The commander-elect, who will preside at his first official meeting Tuesday, Sept. 21, was graduated from Cranston High School, Cranston, R. I., where he earned his letter in football. He also played semi-pro hockey while at the school.

19 Years With Prudential

Gardner, who has been closely identified with Little League baseball in Kingston, is an employe of Prudential Insurance Company, with which he has served for 19 years.

He served as president of both the National and American Little Leagues of the city and helped to organize the National League at Kingman Park during his term of office. Later he managed the Ber-Van Dodgers of the Kingston City League. Gardner also was coach of one of the American Legion baseball teams.

The Kingston Post 150 commander-elect is married to the former Miss Agnes Cafare of Ulster Park. They have three children, Paul Jr., a graduate of Marist College in 1964; Thomas, who will graduate this year from Marist and Michele Ann, who is a student at St. Joseph's School.

Resolution Passed

Post 150 also adopted a resolution last night protesting certain Memorial Day sales and will present it to the county convention of the Legion on Saturday.

Efforts will be made at that parley for its adoption and forwarding to the resolutons committee of the Department of New York American Legion for presentation at the 47th annual convention in Buffalo July 15-17.

The Post resolution, noting overwhelming sentiment of area citizens and business establishments to abide by true observance of Memorial Day, hit out at the open, defiant and unpatriotic attitude of a very small minority.

Its resolutions further calls on the Department of N. Y. Legion to petition the New York State Legislature to enact a law making it illegal to conduct business on Memorial Day, except in those businesses and services that are essential to the health and welfare of the area.

Commander Sonnenberg, in his final sum-up of membership activities, reported that the Post now has 625 members, including 45 new, 24 reinstatements and 11 transfers.

Three Given Cards

Another highlight of last night's meetng was the awarding of consecutive year membership cards to three of the members who were on hand.

These included Lester E. Decker, 45-years, Howard I. Spaulding and Robert V. Delanoy, both with 20 years.

Upstate Woman Seeks $50 for Civil War

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—The Civil War is over, but not for Onondaga County Attorney Eli Gingold and Mrs. Ethel Carrington, the granddaughter of a Union soldier.

Mrs. Carrington of Auburn wants to know whether she is eligible for $50 which, she says, was offered to her grandfather, Hiram Heath, for enlisting in 1862.

Gingold says he isn't sure. He did say, however, that Mrs. Carrington must prove that Heath did enlist in Onondaga County and that he was offered the inducement.

A call to the Onondaga County Historical Association disclosed the county had borrowed $115,000 "to be dispersed at $50 per man to those who volunteered to engage in the war by November 1863."

The association's records also show that Heath did not enlist from Syracuse.

Mrs. Carrington says her grandfather enlisted Aug. 15, 1862, when he lived in the Town of Geddes.

That area since has been annexed by the City of Syracuse.

No one seems to be certain what happens next.

Find 17th Victim

SANDERSON, Tex. (AP) — Workers uncovered the body of a 17th victim of Friday's flash flood, a small boy, in an auto wrecking yard Tuesday.

Authorities said he presumably was one of 10 persons listed as missing and presumed dead, but they had been unable to identify the child.

Nearly a foot of rain in Sanderson Canyon sent the flood hurtling through this far west Texas town, causing an estimated $2 million damage.

Undeclared Wars Bring on Criticism, Divided Opinion

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any time the United States gets into an undeclared war — as it is in Vie Nam — it faces divided opinion at home and criticism of the President.

The result is confusion about what is being done or should be done. It happened to President Harry S. Truman with Korea; it's happening now to President Johnson with Viet Nam.

In both cases the presidents sought discussions but the problem in Korea and in Viet Nam was and is how to persuade the enemy to agree to such talks.

Just proposing wasn't and isn't enough. The task for both men was how to hit the enemy hard enough to convince him it's wiser o talk peace without hitting so hard that the United States finds itself in a huge land war in Asia.

Truman fired Gen. Douglas MacArthur for wanting to extend the war in Korea to Red China whose "volunteers" were the main foe in Korea. Now there is fear if the Vietnamese war is broadened too much Red China will come in.

Before this country was in the Korean war six months — Truman sent the troops in and they became part of a United Nations operation under American leadership — Sen. Robert A. Taft, Republican leader from Ohio, was on Truman's back.

He accused the president of violating the Constitution by not getting advance congressional approval for use of troops and he suggested the United States pull out of Europe.

There is less ground for this complaint against Johnson for using troops in South Viet Nam and bombing North Vie Nam because Congress last August gave him a go-ahead to do what he thought necessary.

But Taft, who wanted to pull out of Korea, later backed MacArthur and wanted to use U.S. planes and warships against Red China.

Another Republican leader, Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, called the Truman policy in Korea an "immoral course of kill, kill, kill and hope somebody will be willing to negotiate."

But then Truman got drowned in more criticism than ever for dismissing MacArthur, whose attitude was a lot more belligerent than Truman's. In the end, North Korea agreed to an armistice.

In Viet Nam, Johnson has sought to induce the North Vietnamese Reds to negotiate a settlement. To persuade them, he has been bombing them since February but they have ignored him and in South Viet Nam the Viet Cong is fighting harder than ever.

By a twist in politics most of the congressional criticism of Johnson comes from inside the ranks of his own Democrats. The Republicans so far have been supporting him although there are signs this may change.

Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, one-time Republican who became a Democrat and friend of Johnson when the latter was Senate leader, is perhaps the harshest critic of his Viet Nam policies.

Tuesday two other Democratic senators — Ernest Gruening of Alaska and A. Willis Robertson of Virginia — appealed for this country to submit the conflict to the United Nations.

And a Republican, Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York, asked for a thorough fact-finding inquiry into the Vietnamese war, such as the Senate Foreign Relations Committee is going to make into the U.S. role in he Dominican Republic.

In the midst of all this, Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, Tuesday made a long Senate speech which didn't pretend to have solutions but illustrated the unhappy American condition.

He is against pulling out the American forces in Viet Nam — he thinks the consequences would be disastrous.

Joy Ride Is Fatal To Five Teeners

MERCER, Pa. (AP) — A joy ride ended in death for five teen-agers as their car and a steel-laden truck collided Tuesday night on Route 62 near the western Pennsylvania community of Sandy Lake.

Coroner John Mohney identified the victims as Robert Watkins, 17, the driver; John Fleppa, 15, and his sister, Anna, 16; Guy Porfilio, 13; and Raymond Weir, 20, all of Meadville, Pa.

The trucker, Francis J. Hovis, 43, of Polk, Pa., was treated for a leg injury at a hospital and released.

More Negro Workers

NEW YORK (AP) — A study released Tuesday by Hunter College shows that the number of Negro professional workers employed in the New York metropolitan area increased by 91 per cent between 1950 and 1960, compared to a 27 per cent increase for all professional workers.

Astronauts Are Separated 1st Since Blastoff

By A. F. MAHAN

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — For the first time since they blasted off 13 days ago, the Gemini 4 twins — astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II — were separated today.

White returned to his native San Antonio, Tex., to receive the plaudits of the city where he was born, and McDivitt was here for a hometown welcome.

Thursday they will be together again in the White House Rose Garden.

There they are to receive from President Johnson the Exceptional Service Award of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration along with Charles W. Matthews, manager of the Gemini program office of the Manned Space Center.

The parting of McDivitt and White at Jackson's Reynolds Airport Tuesday night concluded a day in which they had been made doctors of astronautical science while 30,000 cheered in a stadium ceremony at the University of Michigan, from which both won degrees in 1959.

They also took part in dedication of the university's new $1.7-million Space Research Building.

There was a bit of added attraction for McDivitt today. It was his ninth wedding anniversary, the first his 36-year-old busy Air Force officer could recall "us being together for."

On tap for McDivitt was a downtown parade, a reception, a recognition luncheon and a commencement speech by him at Jackson Junior College of which he also is a graduate.

The medals which President Johnson will present the astronauts Thursday are not the highest award by NASA. The agency's top award is the Distinguished Service Medal and it went to the first six U.S. astronauts. A White House spokesman explained there would be a reevaluation of the astronauts' contributions at the end of the space program and possibly other awards.

After being decorated by the President at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, the astronauts will be received by the House of Representatives in the afternoon.

In the evening, they are scheduled to narrate a color film of their Gemini adventures before the chiefs of the diplomatic missions and members of their families. This will be followed by a reception at the State Department building.

Rivalry to Flare Anew If Titan 3C Is Successful

By RALPH DIGHTON

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Watch for an old rivalry between the Air Force and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to flare anew if the upcoming first launch of a giant rocket called Titan 3C is successful.

Titan 3C, most powerful yet tested, is standing on Pad 40 at Cape Kennedy, Fla., waiting for a go-ahead.

AF Satisfied

The 2½-million-pound-thrust booster has been rejected by NASA as a manned vehicle.

The Air Force, however, insists it will do military jobs much better than the Saturn vehicles being developed by NASA.

Titan 3C could easily become the most controversial rocket in U.S. space history, especially if success gives Air Force friends in Congress and the Department of Defense new ammunition for undercover sharp shooting at the Saturn family of boosters scheduled to take men to the moon by 1970.

National policy decisions so far have consistently relegated the Air Force to a secondary role in manned space plans—the United States is pledged to peaceful, nonmilitary, exploitation of space.

Insist U. S. Falls Behind

Officially, the Air Force has yielded gracefully. In corridors and cloak rooms, however, there are many who insist the United States is falling behind in capability to spy and counter-spy from space.

As one source close to the Air Force says, "We were good boys for years. It was all right with us for NASA to conduct all the manned shots, so long as they let us simultaneously develop a manned capability against the time when we would need it.

"But about 18 months ago the NASA people started touting Saturns as an all-around universal space booster. That was getting into our territory. Titan 3C is the only national, all-purpose space booster. Saturns are too limited, for many reasons. We'll stand for a lot, in the interest of national unity, but we can't let them substitute Saturns for Titan 3C—for military purposes—without a fight."

Difference Over Fuel

At the heart of the controversy is a difference of opinion over liquid fuel vs. solid-fuel rockets. A ruling faction in NASA has traditionally backed liquids, saying solids, while yielding more thrust per pound of booster weight due to elimination of tankage, were not quite safe enough for manned flight. Pro-liquid engineers have used cigarette lighters to ignite firecrackers, then said: "Liquids burn, solids explode."

Military men liked the quick reaction and lower cost of solids, however, and have replaced liquid-fuel Atlas and Titan I missiles with the solid-fuel Minuteman and Polaris.

Hope to Clinch Point

Now they say they have learned to control solids to a point where they are even safer than liquids. They hope to clinch the point in the upcoming series of 17 Titan 3C test firings.

The Saturns so far tested are designed only to reach earth orbit. The ultimate, Saturn 5, is planned to take three men to he moon and back.

Titan 3C won't do this, but Air Force officers, strangely, are not touchy about this.

Military men are more interested, at least for some years to come, in putting bigger payloads of men, surveillance gear and weapons in earth orbit.

MIGHTIEST U.S.S. ROCKET READY FOR TEST—This is the United States' most powerful rocket, the Titan 30, ready for its first launching on a pad at Cape Kennedy. The 2½-million pound thrust booster has been rejected by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration as a manned vehicle, but the Air Force insists the Titan will perform military tasks better than Saturn rockets being developed by NASA (AP Wirephoto)

Marines Offer 120-Day Delay Enlistment Plan

Sgt. Samuel Brown, the local Marine Corps recruiter announced that high school seniors who wish to join the Marines and begin training in the summer or fall, should join now on the 120-day delay program.

By using this program, you may join now and pick your date to start your training at any time within 120 days (4 months) after you enlist, he said.

Here is what it does:

1. Allows you to reserve a vacancy for enlistment for yourself at any time of your choice.
2. Allows you to reduce your military obligation by as much as 4 months.
3. This time is credited to you for pay and promotion purposes.
4. Gives you ample time to complete school, work or enjoy a vacation before reporting for duty.

For those interested in aviation, Sgt. Brown has 8 aviation openings for July and 8 for August. Those who qualify may be guaranteed aviation and still use the 120 day delay plan.

Anyone who would like more information on the Marine Corps is invited to stop in at the office, room 206, Central Post Office Bldg., any week day 8:30 to 4:30. If this is not convenient, you may call and make an appointment for Sgt. Brown to see you at your home. Toll charges may be reversed.

Safest Way to Paint House

The safest and most convenient way to paint a house is from a scaffold. This will enable you to paint across the entire side of the building as you work downward. Try to finish a morning's or day's work at a corner or window so that laps and streaks will not occur, even if several days intervene because of weather. Amateurs can rent scaffolding. Consult your paint dealer.

Ladies May Lose Special Concessions Come July 2

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Women take a major step forward in the battle of the sexes July 2 when a new federal law bans job discrimination based on — among other things — sex.

Or, in some cases, it could be a step backward.

If the law is interpreted strictly, the ladies may not always like it. It could wipe out state laws designed to protect them from dangerous work, and it might mean the end to special concessions like extra rest periods, earlier retirement and — yes, even maternity leave.

On the other hand, a lady with muscles who has always wanted to be, say, a jackhammer operator, may finally get her chance to overcome traditional male resistance.

Lawyers Not Sure

Lawyers aren't too sure just what the law will do to traditional job lines between men and women.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Norbert A. Schlei puts it this way: "It could become one of those lawyers' nightmares."

How did it all come about?

When Congress wrote the 1964 Civil Rights Act, some Southern opponents threw the word "sex" into the equal employment opportunity section which also bans job discrimination based on race, color, religion and national origin.

Justice Department lawyers believe it was a move to gum up the bill. If it was, it may have succeeded.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who was Senate floor leader when the bill was passed, said the sex provision would not wipe out laws in 43 states and the District of Columbia designed to protect women.

About Court Rulings

It is generally believed — although by no means certain — that the courts will not disturb most existing laws and practices.

"I am sure they won't rule that if someone refuses to hire a woman as a jackhammer operator that this is discrimination in violation of the law," says Donald Slaiman, director of the AFL - CIO civil rights department.

There is an exception in the law allowing hiring on the basis of sex if it is "a bona fide occupational qualification reasonably necessary to the normal operation of that particular business or enterprise."

That would seem to cover a job in a ladies' — or men's — locker room. But other areas are more shadowy.

Does the law mean a restaurant cannot advertise for a "waiter," because a waiter is a man?

"I think that advertising for waiters may be a violation; it may not be," said Slaiman.

No Way of Knowing

But as to state laws that protect women from certain dangerous work, limit the number of hours they can work and, in some cases, how much they lift or carry, Schlei warned: "That is the area that is going to create a great deal of trouble. There is no way of knowing what attitude" the courts are going to take.

Richard K. Berg, Justice Department lawyer, sees trouble where state law or a labor contract gives women benefits denied to men, "such as rest periods, maternity benefits, and earlier retirement privileges."

Where it all will end, nobody is quite sure. Congress may have to amend the law later to keep the battle of the sexes from breaking out into open warfare.

"We'll just have to wait and see," sighed Schlei.

Receives Promotion

Marine Private First Class Robert J. Tompkins received a meritorius promotion to his present rank after completing infantry combat training at Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N. C. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Tompkins of Highland.

During the four week course of training, he was taught such subjects as "Day and Night Combat Tactics," the different weapons used by the Marine Infantry and Small Unit Tactics.

His promotion was based on his conduct and proficiency, leadership abilities and character. At the present time, Pfc. Tompkins is home on leave and has been assigned to Refrigeration and Air Condititoning School where he will take up a specialist job as a refrigeration mechanic. A refrigeration mechanic installs, operates, maintains and repairs refrigeration and air conditioning equipment, systems and accessory material.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — If the stock market bothers you there is a group of engineers eager to help you cool off this summer. They work for a host of makers of air-conditioning equipment of all types. And they boast of marked changes and improvements which may solve some of the problems that kept this once-exuberant industry from achieving earlier goals fast.

Sales are definitely up this year. And the pending cut in federal excise taxes should help.

Sees $2.5 Billion Pace

The industry talks of hitting a $2.5-billion pace this year. The emphasis is on the home. But makers of big units also see record sales in equipment for office buildings, apartments, industrial plants, hospitals, hotels and schools.

Some of the problems the engineers say they've solved are: cutting costs of assembling a home system; development of new units that can work on the lower voltage wiring found in most old homes; packaging of heating and cooling equipment in one compact cabinet.

Trane Co. of La Crosse, Wis., has a unit half the size of one it introduced in 1958. Norge offers wood fronts so the cooler will look like the other furniture. York is introducing a chemical pellet, Purafil, for central systems to remove cooking, cigarette and other odors.

Fedders of Maspeth, N.Y., sees expense cutting as opening new markets. Carrier of Syracuse, N.Y., counts on more efficient equipment to make the cooling of the entire home the greatest potential market for the industry.

Included in Many Homes

One in every five homes being built now includes central air conditioning.

Fedders thinks one of the things that held people back in the past was the high cost of assembling a home system and charging it with refrigerant on the site. This time-consuming and expensive method has been replaced by new systems designed by the engineers to be assembled and charged at the factory. The cost of work crews at the building site has been cut deeply.

Army Green

CHICAGO (AP)—Green soldiers soon will be seeing green —on themselves. The U.S. Army tan uniform will give way to the new lightweight army green uniform and will replace the tan entirely by July 1968.

Peter Duchin May Be One to Bring Big Bands Back

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — If they can make their way through the graduation celebrators these nights, middle-age music fans can enjoy a nostalgic experience at the Cocoanut Grove.

Playing melodic piano on the bandstand, just as his daddy did before him, is young Peter Duchin. As he lilts through Chopin's "Nocturne in E Flat," long-memoried listeners can close their eyes and picture the tall, patrician-looking Eddy Duchin, star of a gentler era in popular music.

Unlike some second-generation performers, Peter Duchin makes no effort to escape from the image of his famous sire. Some of his arrangements are the same that the elder Duchin played for young romancers who are now grandparents.

But Peter aims to please the young crowd, too, and his band can beat out a Watusi that can convert the dance floor into a writhing mass. A graduate of Yale and the U.S. Army, he has applied modern methods to the long-ailing band business, and he just might be able to help bring it back to health.

Duchin, 27 and with dashing good looks, made his band debut less than three years ago.

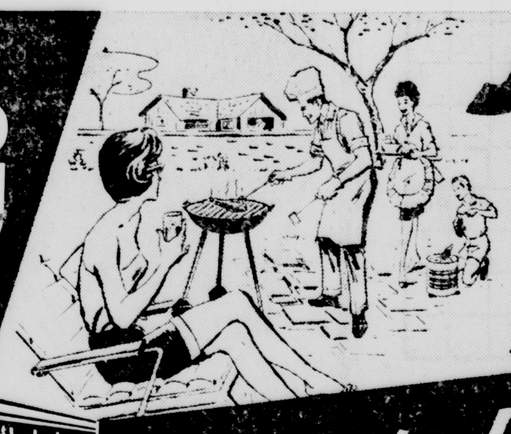

The enterprise has grown to the degree that it books not only the Peter Duchin orchestra but a half-dozen others as well, plus everything from rock 'n' roll combos to a single flamenco guitarist.

Peter had a taste of the band business after the war. "I carried music for dad when he toured with his band," he recalled. That exposure was enough to convince him that he wanted to follow his father's line of work.

The conviction grew at Yale, where he led his own combo, and in the Army, where he headed a band of 28 enlisted men and native players in Panama. In 1962 he made his debut at the Maisonette Room of the St. Regis Hotel in New York and promptly became the pianist laureate of high society.

General Ulysses S. Grant was the first U. S. president to seek a third term in office.

Dispute With His Girl Will Mean Bigger Submarine

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

DELMAR, Md. (AP) — A dispute with his girl friend has prompted Luther W. Mitchell Jr., 19, to build a bigger submarine.

"There was a controversy as to who was going to ride inside and who was going to ride outside with skin-diving gear," he said.

So Mitchell scrapped the submarine he had fashioned from a jet fuel pod and is building one from a larger fuel pod to accommodate two persons.

"I put the first one together in a hurry to get ready for a science fair and I knew then I'd have to take it apart again anyway," he said, explaining that it had to be dismantled and sealed to make it seaworthy.

"So I figured that as long as I was going to take it apart anyway, I might just as well use this larger pod.

"If everything goes right, it shouldn't take me more than a month."

Mitchell, who enters the Wallops Island branch of the University of Virginia this fall to study electrical engineering, has built almost all of the parts for the submarine himself, from the radios to the pressure tanks.

"I'm having problems getting the fuel tank," he said. "But I've got the motors and radios and everything. I've got all the parts now so it won't be a big job.

"I have a four-cycle Jeep engine that will operate a turbo-jet propulsion unit."

The turbo-jet motor will propel the sub by shooting a stream of water from the rear of the craft. By angling the stream, Mitchell says he can steer the vessel.

He hopes to use the submarine to explore the floor of the Atlantic Ocean off Cape Henlopen, Del., looking for wrecks.

"I'm kind of pressed right now," he said, "because I'm working at the airport from eight in the morning until eight at night. But if I put in two hours every night I can get quite a bit done."

And there'll be no more disputes with his girl, Ivy Shedaker, 17, who calls Mitchell, "the mad scientist."

OBLIGATION TO HER TRAVELING COMPANIONS

Q: I live in the East at the present time but my home is in California. I plan to drive home next month to visit my parents. Two of my friends are coming along just for the trip. They have no friends or relatives in California. I have invited them to stay at my parents' house. My question is this: I have many friends and relatives on the coast and no doubt they will invite me to their houses to dinner or give parties for me. Would it be proper for me to accept these invitations without my traveling companions, or would it be permissible to ask the hostess if I may bring them along?

A: You should tell those who invite you about your traveling companions, and if any of the hostesses are unable to include them, you should try to find something else for your friends to do before you can properly accept invitations for yourself alone.

Removing Wedding Flowers From Church

Q: We intend to have bouquets of flowers placed on the first five pews on both sides of the center aisle at our daughter's wedding. After the ceremony, would it be permissible to have someone remove them from the pews and take them to the reception where they can be used for decorations?

A: They should be left in the church. Were you to remove them, you would almost certainly be criticized for parsimony.

A Broken Engagement

Q: Will you please tell me how a broken engagement is handled with the least possible embarassment? My daughter's engagement was announced two months ago and three weeks later her fiance decided to call the whole thing off and, needless to say, my daughter is very upset over it.

A: Send a notice to the newspaper in which the announcement of her engagement appeared reading: "The engagement of Miss Mary Smith and Mr. Henry Brown has been broken by mutual consent."

UCCC Student Joins VISTA Program; Training Period at University of Utah

Miss Maria LaBelle, 216 Ten Broeck Avenue, Kingston, a student at Ulster County Community College, will be spending the next year on an Indian Reservation in Utah, it was announced by Dean of Students Robert A. Denning, today. Maria's service will be part of the VISTA (Volunteers in Service to America) Program created by President Johnson as a part of the Economic Opportunity Program. Maria will leave Kingston for Salt Lake City on June 19 where she will attend a six weeks training period at the University of Utah.

Maria graduated from Kingston High School in June, 1964 and entered Ulster County Community College in a Liberal Arts Program last September. She has been named to the Dean's List each of her two semesters at the Community College.

The VISTA Program recruits, selects, trains, places and supports qualified volunteers whose services have been requested to aid in the elimination of poverty in the United States. In expressing her great satisfaction in being selected for this important program, Maria said: "I feel very honored, but also humble, having this opportunity to be of service as a part of the VISTA program. I think that my one year at Ulster County Community College will be of great help to me and I look forward very much to working with the Indians. I hope that other young people at UCCC, and other colleges in our area, will also develop interest in the VISTA program. Of course, at the end of my year, I know I will be happy to be back at UCCC to complete the work for my Associates in Arts Degree."

The VISTA program is open to any person 18 years of age or over whether married or single. Initial training programs are four to six weeks in length and directed specifically towards the needs of the job and the location where the volunteer will be assigned. The training program stresses supervised field experience and the application of particular skills to the environment in which the volunteer will work, discussion of the nature and causes of poor in the U. S., health education and the development of recreational skills. Volunteers will work in rural and community action programs, Job Corps, camps, migrant worker communities, Indian reservations, hospitals, Indian Reservation, schools and institutions for the mentally ill. Volunteers may be sent to any of the 50 states, District of Columbia, Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands.

Junior Troop 159 Has Awards Court

Girl Scout Roundup slides, a Court of Awards, and a surprise farewell party highlighted the final program of Junior Girl Scout Troop 159 held recently in the former Union Center school.

MaryLou Joseiski, Senior Girl Scout delegate from Kingston to the forthcoming international encampment at Farragut, Idaho, described her preparatory training for the Roundup to members of the Junior troop and their parents. She showed slides of Ulster County Girl Scouts participating in the training sessions for the last Roundup held a few years ago at Button Bay, Vt., and discussed activities in which the 11,000 Idaho Rounduppers would be engaged during the week of July 15-28.

Darlene Wiltsie, the troop's newest Girl Scout was formally welcomed into membership by troop leader, Mrs. William Daum.

Badges earned by the Juniors during the past three months were presented by Mrs. James McElhaney as follows: My Home, Laura Russo and Debra Swanson; Health Aid, Carita Rintala; Drawing and Painting and Toymaker, Gretchen and Johanna Daum, Mary Jane Freer, Christiane Joyet, Susan Kinsch, Cynthia Kirk, Diana Koola, Helen Johnson, Michele McDonough, Betty Ann Miller, Carita Rintala, Margaret and Sheffield, Debra Swanson, Jean Tillson, and Gail Tremper; My Community, Laura Russo; and My Trefoil, Carita Rintala.

Culminating the program was a surprise farewell party for Mrs. McElhaney who will be moving to California with her family at the end of June. An original skit by officers of the troop depicted the assistant leader with her husband and daughter in a hilarious enforced encampment somewhere in the Dakota Badlands. The troop then presented her with a Girl Scout carry-all bag containing a poncho for California and several gifts made by the girls. Mothers of the Girl Scouts assisted in serving the refreshments which featured a large sheet cake decorated with the Girl Scout emblem and the word Auf Wiedersehen.

During the summer months, Troop 159 will hold informal meetings, beginning with weekly swims at DeWitt Lake.

Methodists Hear Annual Report as Conference Opens

The need for increased emphasis on human rights by the Methodist Churches in the New York Conference and a watchful eye for the storm warnings which beset its institutional life were the key notes in the district superintendents' annual report to the 166th annual session at Alumni Hall Student Center, University of Bridgeport, Conn. today.

The Rev. Dr. Arnold O. Olson of Poughkeepsie, who presented the composite report, told delegates from over 600 churches his definition of their task as churchmen was: "To help men live up to their moral capacity. To inspire them with a sense of life at its fullest; and to evoke a total response, in the freedom which their endowments permit, on behalf of the things that endure. . ."

On the subject of Renewal in the Church he said:

"If we who are the church do choose to ignore this debate (about the failure of the church) we exhibit a snallow indifference to keep faith with the mission of the church or to take account of the storm warnings which beset its institutional life: the defection of many intellectuals, right-wing resurgency, ultra-fundamentalism, ecstaticism, pentacostalism, and mass apathy . . .Increasingly, then, there are churchmen who are being brought to the conviction that the church, as presently constituted, is not adequate as an agency of salvation or as the obedient and sensitive instrument of the imperatives given it by its Lord."

View of Church Role

"When we see the church, not as the domesticated servant of culture, nor the seamstress of special interests, the captive of prideful men, or the prey of clericalism, but as the community of a saving commitment, a society within the social order yet fronting it with prophetic candor then shall we know the greatness to which we have been called"

He commented on the first year, after the merger of the New York and New York East Conferences, as a year of discovery and exploration; a year of trial and error, but one which has been auspicious and a forerunner of many to follow:

On the subject of the Conference Crusade, Dr. Olson said:

"Any doubt we may feel about our involvement as beneficiaries of this crusade effort can meet the moment of truth as we scan the spectrum of our dollar allocations to retirement communities, youth camps, ministerial scholarships, church, extension, stewardship education, and lastly and magnificently, the inner city where the ways are crowded not only with people wending the streets and inhabiting the blight, but congested with possibilities that stagger cur imagining."

Action Phase Explained

His remarks pertaining to the theme of the Methodist Church, One Witness in One World, were as follows:

"The action phase of the Quadrennial Program is a witness phase, where oneness is demonstrated across racial, economic, and cultural lines in practical and specific ways: where persons and materials are lend-leased by one congregation to another for a period of time to assist it in its performance and to dramatize the inclusive nature of the body of the church and the concern we have as members for one another. There are churches in our Conference which are already related to sister enterprises in this fashion, some in a most dramatic and sacrificial way."

Comment Is Made By Beatle on Award by Queen

LONDON (AP)— "It almost makes us wish we'd never got it," said Beatle John Lennon today of the fuss over Queen Elizabeth's award of royal citations to him and his three mop-top partners.

They were made members of the Order of the British Empire last week. This entitles the Beatles to add an "esquire" to their names and wear a medal.

"I can understand a few people saying they don't think much of it," Lennon said, "but for people actually to send back their MBE's to the queen—well, there must be something wrong with them."

Lennon's comment was the first from the Beatles since a howl of protest arose because the queen decorated the entertainers. British war heroes are returning their own royal awards in protest.

"I reckon we got it for exports, and the citation should have said that," Lennon said. The Beatles' personal appearances and record sales abroad have earned Britain several millions in various foreign currencies.

The award traditionally has been given for long and faithful service to Britain or for outstanding performance in the arts or professions. All such royal honors are made in the name of the monarch, but they are made on the recommendation of the prime minister.

Music will be by Johnny Knapp's band. Snacks will be at the tables for refreshments. Assisting with plans for the dance are Mrs. George Rifenbary and Mrs. Harold Finkle.

Walking Tours Set For Thursday Here; Historic Landmarks

The second of the series of guided walking tours of historic Kingston will take place Thursday at 2 p. m. from the Governor Clinton Hotel.

A subcommittee of the Convention and Visitors Committee of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring these tours, open to the public, held on the third Thursday of each month May through September. Members of a special Junior League Committee serve as guides for the tours.

In making this announcement today, Frank Reis, Jr., chairman of the Chamber Convention and Visitors Committee, stated it is an opportunity to visit several old stone houses, ordinarily not open to the public, as well as the Old Dutch Church, the DAR House, Senate House and Museum. At the DAR House, ladies in colonial dress will be on hand to tell interesting stories and serve as guides. At the Old Dutch Church several persons will be on hand to relate the history of the church and describe the valuable items on exhibit.

The guided walking tour starts at the Governor Clinton Hotel, opposite Academy Green, the site of the first "Peace Conference" conducted by Colonial Governor Peter Stuyvesant between the early settlers and the Indians in 1658. The tour takes about an hour and a half to complete, permitting extra time for the participants to visit the Senate House and the Museum, where the tour ends.

It is not necessary for those planning to take part to register in advance, but it would help the guides if the people arrived at least five or ten minutes before 2 o'clock. The group will gather in the lobby of the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Kramer Compliments Board

Supervisors Pave Way For Anti-Poverty Fight

Unanimous action by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors has paved the way for progress in the anti-poverty fight, according to Bernhardt S. Kramer, field consultant of the New York State Office of Economic Opportunity

Kramer complimented the Board of Supervisors for their recent approval of a resolution establishing an Ulster County Community Action Committee, and empowering the Committee to make immediate application for a program development grant from the federal government under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964.

The Board adopted the resolution unanimously on June 10, 1965, Kramer noted thus setting up an official body to utilize the federal program for the benefit of underprivileged groups in Ulster County. The Board also directed that the action Committee be enlarged to include representation by persons who are to benefit from the provisions of the Act.

Kramer urged all interested civic and social work groups to make an effort to contact the Community Action Committee and offer their ideas and support in the local fight against poverty. With the establishment of this committee by the Board of Supervisors, he explained, the people now have an official action group to initiate programs under the Act.

Kramer expressed hope that the new Community Action Committee will be expanded and move promptly to investigate the areas of economic assistance the Act makes available to the County. He offered his guidance as a State field consultant in the region to expedite the activity. Kramer has an office in Kingston at the Ulster County Office Building.

Dutchess County Judge John R. Schwartz on Tuesday reserved decision on motions by Edward A. Miller, attorney for Mrs. Jean Bach, 40, of 7 Rogers Place, Hyde Park, who is accused of shooting her husband, Alfred, also 40, the night of May 5.

Miller is seeking a copy of the autopsy report and the grand jury minutes in the first degree murder case. The alleged slaying occurred in the living room of the Bach home.

Judge Schwartz told the defense attorney he had not had time to examine the grand jury minutes. No date for the trial was set.

WSCS Event Aids Narcotic Fight In Gotham Parish

The Women's Society of Christian Service of Saugerties Methdist Church received a letter from the Rev. Alfredo Cotto-Thorner, pastor of South Third Street Methodist Church, Brooklyn, thanking the Society for the contribution of $224 sent to him in May.

The proceeds of the cafeteria supper which the WSCS held on March 31, were sent to help him continue his work. Many Saugerties citizen attended this supper and helped to make it a success.

The WSCS feels that the readers of The Kingston Daily Freeman might be interested in this letter. The "Magic Chair" to which the Rev. Mr. Cotto-Thorner refers is a free will collection plate which is placed on a chair at the rear of his church. The money received from the "Magic Chair" is used to meet emergencies in his church.

The letter reads as follows:

"Several days ago we received your check for the amount of $224 which we appreciate greatly. For some time we had been wondering about our Summer program with the drug addicts. We praise the Lord for opening doors, through your WSCS Society, to reach these boys and girls who need help so badly and who are rejected by many but welcomed by Christ.

"Because of your help we will be able to establish some kind of work among them which we are sure will bring new courage and faith to many.

"The opportunities to reach these young people are greater today as there is a 'panic' in the city and the boys are desperate for drugs and cannot get them. The alternatives now is to drink wine, which by no means satisfies the need. It is our opportunity to show them that it is possible to find something bigger to which they can give their lives.

"Our own 'Magic Chair' is still working wonders and we know that it is because of the power of the Holy Spirit with us in this work.

"Thank you again for sharing this work with us. Pray for us."

In His Service,
A. COTTO-THORNER, Pastor

Car Wash, Real Splash

A great turnout of Jaycees, water, soap and plenty of elbow grease Saturday helped to make a big success of the Jaycees car wash. Mother Nature supplied a beautiful day and the good people of the area provided a plentiful supply of cars. The Jaycees worked in three shifts and had to go into overtime to clean up the remaining few cars. The going was a little slow at first but by the end of the day managed to average 7 cars an hour. The Jayncees started off fine with hot coffee and refreshments for the cooler morning hours and then switched to iced tea as the temperature started rising. A great time was had by all who participated and we're sure the proceeds will be useful for the many worthwhile community projects which the Jaycees sponsor.

Hearing Adjourned

The court appearance of Donald E. Baker before Justice of the Peace William D. Brinner on a charge of violating the town's junkyard ordinance scheduled Tuesday afternoon was adjourned one week to Tuesday, June 22.

Saugerties Group Favors Greco for Supervisor Post

The anti-Williams faction of Town of Saugerties Republicans Tuesday night announced they favored Town Councilman Frank Greco of Mt. Marion as their candidate for supervisor in the November elections.

Austin Simmons, prominent Barclay Heights developer, who served as chairman of the meeting held at the VFW Hall, said the group known as the Regular Republican Organization last night has a slate of convention delegates 80 per cent complete.

To Name Delegates

The delegates, three from each of Saugerties' 11 election districts, will be named when the slate is complet, Simmons said. Those already named favored Greco as the GOP candidate for supervisor.

Greco, who heads Greco Bros. Amusement Co., Inc., Glasco, was in attendance and said he would run and welcomes the support of the group, Simmons said.

A Primary fight for the nomination between incumbent Supervisor Peter M. Williams and Greco is within the realm of possibility.

The delegates also said they would support Lloyd R. Newcombe for state senator and Attorney Richard Overbagh for county surrogate. Simmons said that at the next public meeting of the organization, all three candidates for the nominations will speak to the gathering.

Set Sights on Convention

Simmons said the delegates chosen last night and the others to complete the list will be sent to the County GOP convention in Kingston, tentatively scheduled for July 17.

The complete town slate proposed by the Simmons delegates will be announced at a later date, he said. Simmons described the attendance at the meeting last night as modest. Some of those attending said there were about 14 persons present.

The so-called Regular Republican Organization is reportedly composed of a group of town GOP committeemen opposed to incumbent Supervisor Peter M. Williams.

An attempt to oust Williams as town GOP chairman failed in December when the 22 committeemen voted 11 for Williams and 11 for Simmons.

Meeting Scheduled

The pro-Williams group supported by the Town of Saugerties Republican Club Inc., has scheduled a meeting in the 10th Election District Thursday, June 24 at 8 p.m. in Mt. Marion Inn. Supervisor Williams will be the principal speaker. The meeting notice said Williams will report to the club on a recent meeting of the Town GOP Committee, and also on a meeting of the County GOP Committee held June 12 at Kingston.

The prime delegates who will choose the slate of candidates for November are named at the various GOP town caucuses to be held in October.

House Is Ready To Vote Post For Housing, UR

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — All but talked out on the subject, the House was ready today to approve legislation creating a Cabinet-level department of housing and urban development.

The day's first order of business was a vote on an alternative Republican proposal to establish a new federal office to coordinate the government's activities that bear on city affairs.

This proposal by Rep. Florence P. Dwyer, R-N.J., appeared doomed for burial under a heavy avalanche of votes reflecting the Democratic majority of better than 2 to 1.

This would clear the way for expected overwhelming approval of the new department which has been sought by Presidents Johnson and John F. Kennedy.

Opponents say the bureaucracy of the proposed department would not solve the cities' problems.

Democrats appeared united in support of the bill and it is likely to get at least some Republican backing. Tuesday Rep. John V. Lindsay, GOP candidate for mayor of New York City, spoke in support of the measure.

"The troubles of the cities are increasingly susceptible to national solutions," he told the House. "The awareness of these problems and the design of programs by which the government can ease or correct them should be placed regularly and forcefully upon the Cabinet table."

A Democrat who wants to run against Lindsay, Rep. William F. Ryan, backed the bill as "turning the national spotlight on the cities of America."

The bill would create the new department mainly by merging the Housing and Home Finance Agency, the Federal National Mortgage Association and some smaller groups. It would be the 11th department in the Cabinet.

The House twice in 1962 bucked President Kennedy and refused to approve creation of an urban Cabinet department. The Senate has never acted on the proposal. Its version still is in committee.

Star-Tracker Launched

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A 1,000-pound experimental payload carrying an "electronic navigator" rocketed 400 miles high today and used a telescope-eye to lock onto the North Star for guidance.

The Air Force announced success of the test, the first for a new star-tracking guidance system which might steer future missiles or spacecraft.

The payload later plunged to a fiery atmospheric friction death 225 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy.

It carried a compact inertial guidance system which literally steered itself by a star. The telescope peered into the heavens, sighted the North Star, and hitched onto it for a reference.

Nature Lore Is Topic of School Guest Speaker

As she showed colored slides, she explained the habits of wildlife. Mrs. Kelley has cared for many wild animals and birds and she told the children some of her experiences with them.

Mrs. Kelley is one of the speakers listed in the Lecturers File of the Mid Hudson-Catskills Museum. The museum is working also on an auto-instructional guide and hopes to offer the public some guided field trips within the next few months.

Those interested in additional infromation about the museum may contact John Buck Jr., P.O. Box 101, Rondout Station, Kingston, 12403.

State Awards 18 More Regents Scholarships to Area Students

The New York State Education Department in Albany has announced the names of 18 additional Ulster County high school students who have been awarded Regents college scholarships. A total of 260 additional awards have been granted throughout the state.

A recently enacted amendment to the scholarship law increases the number of Regents scholarships of all types awarded annually to high school seniors from 17,400 to 20,000 statewide and from 110 to 128 in Ulster County.

Regents scholarships are allocated to the counties of the State in proportion to the number of high school graduates. The additional awards to which each county of the state is entitled under the revised legislation have been awarded to the top-ranking students on the previously established alternate list for the county.

Of the 18 students to receive the grants in Ulster County, nine are from Kingston High School, bringing the school's Regents grant total to 64.

Students who will receive the additional scholarships are as follows:

65 Communities Offer Sites For Largest Atom Smasher

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — A mad scramble for the megabuck has overwhelmed the Atomic Energy Commission.

From West Palm Beach, Fla., to Richland, Wash., the applications have flooded in, 65 of them from 39 states with more to come in the mail.

The prize they seek; a $280-million atom smasher, to be the largest and most powerful in the world. In atomic age slang, $1 million is a megabuck.

The proposed proton accelerator which would be devoted to basic research would be a huge circular structure a mile in diameter. It would have a capacity in the range of 200 billion electron volts — BEV. The largest one in the United States now, at Brookhaven, N.Y., is 33 BEV. The Russians are supposed to be building a 70- BEV accelerator.

Big Pay Roll

Eventually 2,000 scientists, technicians and engineers will man the 200-BEV accelerator. Thousands more visiting scientists will pour in yearly. The payroll alone with be tremendous.

That is one reason why places like Washtenaw County, Mich., Missoula, Mont., and the Bad Lands of South Dakota — to name a few — have applied to provide the site.

The deadline was Tuesday night, but AEC sources said applications postmarked Tuesday would probably get under the wire.

Some of the applications mentioned only the state, with no specific site suggested. Others were presented at a hearing before AEC commissioners Tuesday with elaborate brochures, and with senators, congressmen, governors and university presidents to extoll their virtues.

List Attractions

In effect, most of the applications shouted: "Look at us! Look at all the facilities, housing, educational institutions, and cultural advantages we have!"

Those are some of the things the AEC is looking for near the site. Others are an area of 3,000 acres, a firm electric power supply, a minimum of 2,000 gallons per minute of high quality water, good surface transportation and a major airport.

Nothing like this scramble has ever been experienced before in of the AEC, a spokesman said.

$1.9 Million Start

The AEC has asked the National Academy of Sciences to winnow the applications and come up with a recommendation by the end of the year. The field will first be narrowed down to 15 finalists by a board of review.

Congress has appropriated $1.9 million for preliminary design work, but the rest of the cost is still to come.

World News In Brief

Epidemic Kills 700

NEW DELHI (AP) — More than 700 deaths were reported today in a gastroenteritis epidemic in the northeast state of Assam and in a killer heat wave gripping northern India.

The 10-week epidemic in Assam has taken 560 lives, reports to Calcultta said, and more deaths were feared imminent. The disease resumbles cholera. The heat toll hit 144 deaths today, and no relief was in sight. Daytime temperatures for the past four days have ranged from about 108 in New Delhi to more than 120 in the Gaya district of Bihar state.

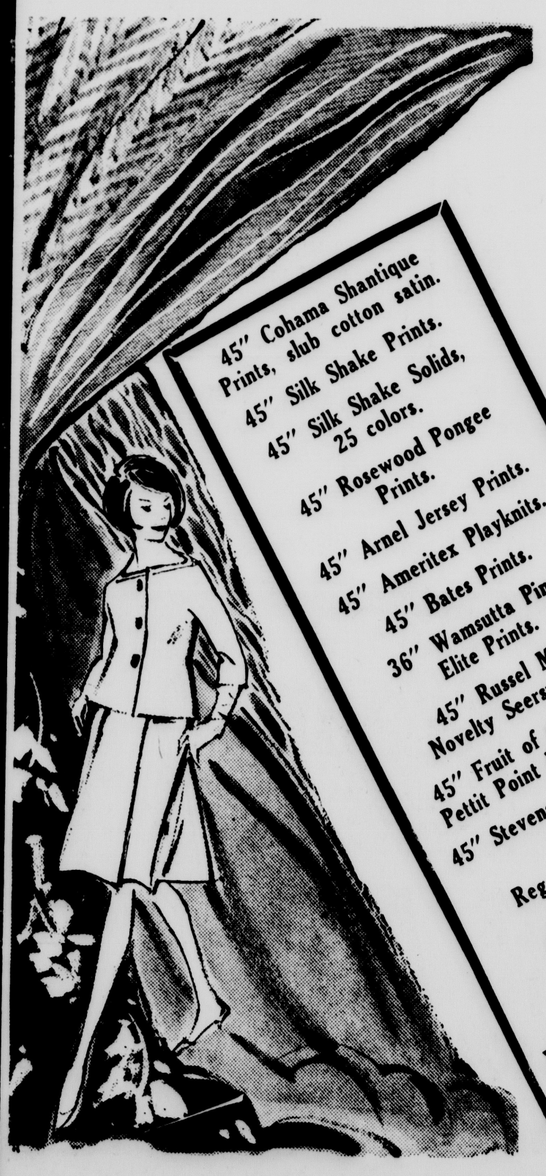

Fanatics Executed

TEHERAN, Iran. (AP)—Four Moslem fanatics were executed by a firing squad today for the assassination of Premier Hassan Ali Mansour last Jan. 21.

They were Mohammed Bokharaei, who shot the premier as he was entering the Parliament buildings; Reza Safar Erandi, 23; Morteza Niknejad, 24, and Sadegh Hamanadi, described as the ringleader of the plot.

The shah commuted the death sentences of two other members of the Fedayan Islam terrorist organization to ilfe imprisonment.

Marlboro Dominates 1st All-UCAL Baseball Team

Paul Natale Hits .300 For St. Lawrence Club

PAUL NATALE

Sophomore Paul Natale of Kingston completed his first season of varsity baseball with the St. Lawrence University this spring with a .300 batting average. He drove in 17 runs and his slugging average was a hefty .620.

A 1963 graduate of Kingston High, Natale led the Larries to an 8-5 record, including wins over Ithaca and Colgate.

Natale divided his time between the outfield and behind the plate. He hit winning home runs against RPI and Hobart.

A member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, Natale was also successful in the classroom. He was on the sophomore honor roll.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Natale Sr., Route 1, Kingston, Paul was a three-letter athlete at Kingston High school.

Fino, Canosa, Aurigemma and Lacey on Squad

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Marlboro Central, which toppled all opposition while compiling a perfect 12-0 record in the Ulster County league, dominates the first annual All-UCAL baseball team, as selected by the circuit coaches.

Coach Jack Kroh's Dukes have pitcher Neil Fino, catcher Mark Canosa, third baseman Richard (Red) Aurigemma and right fielder Jim Lacy on the 10-man first team. First baseman Jim Russo and center fielder Ben Trapani are on the second team.

Two From Highland

Highland, a second place finisher along with New Paltz is the only other team to place more than one player on the first team. First baseman Greg Cappillino and shortstop John Keuleman represent that school.

Other first team berths were earned by Bruce Hansen, Wallkill, pitcher; John Blanchard, Rondout Valley, second base; John Phelan, Onteora, left field and Bob Zaccheo, New Paltz, center field.

With the exception of Pine Bush, all clubs in the circuit are represented on the first team. Pine Bush has three players — pitcher Charlie Alexander, second baseman Harold Cliff and third baseman Joe Rowe on the second team.

This marks the first year that coaches have selected all-star teams in the three major sports (football, basketball and baseball).

No Major Deals At the Deadline

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Major league baseball's trading deadline passed at midnight local time Tuesday with a flurry of minor player transactions and a raft of rumors, but no major deals.

The New York Yankees, Cleveland Indians, Los Angeles Angels and New York Mets were the only teams making last-minute changes.

The Yankees brought up left-handed hitting catcher Jake Gibbs from Toledo of the International League and sent Bob Schmidt, a right-handed hitting catcher to the IL club.

Gibbs, who signed a $100,000 bonus contract with the Yankees in 1961, batted .266 for Toledo in 49 games. Schmidt, 32, hit .250 in 20 games for New York.

Cleveland optioned two players and called up one from their farm club of the Pacific Coast League, purchased catcher Phil Roof from Los Angeles and asked waivers on veteran pitcher Dick Donovan.

Optioned to Portland were catcher Camilo Carreon and infielder Billy Moran. The Indians recalled catcher Duke Sims from the PCL club.

Won 20 in 1962

Donovan, a 37-year-old right-hander, had been with the Indians since 1961. His best season was 1962 when he won 20 and lost 10. Waivers were asked on him to make room on the Cleveland roster for right-hander Jack Spring, who was purchased from Seattle Monday.

Carreon came to the Indians in a three-club trade last winter. He had batted .231 in 19 games. Sims was hitting .325 at Portland.

Roof, who was acquired for cash and a player to be named later, had played in only nine games for the Angels, batting .136. Moran, a five-year veteran, had been to bat only 13 times this season.

The Mets sent catcher Hawk Taylor to Buffalo of the International League.

Taylor, a $118,000 bonus baby with the Milwaukee Braves in 1957, batted .240 for the Mets in 92 games last year and only .152 in 25 games this season.

The day's best rumor had Eddie Mathews of the Braves moving to Los Angeles in an even-up swap for left-handed pitcher Claude Osteen, who the Dodgers acquired in a seven-player trade from Washington last winter.

Questioned about the rumor, Dodger General Manager Buzzie Bavasi laughed it off.

Apache Nine Tops Mohawks, 10-0

George Brown and Glenn Stoutenburg combined to hurl a one-hitter as the Apache stormed to a 10-0 Metropolitan Knothole League win over the Mohawks.

The winners picked up half a dozen runs in the second to insure the triumph.

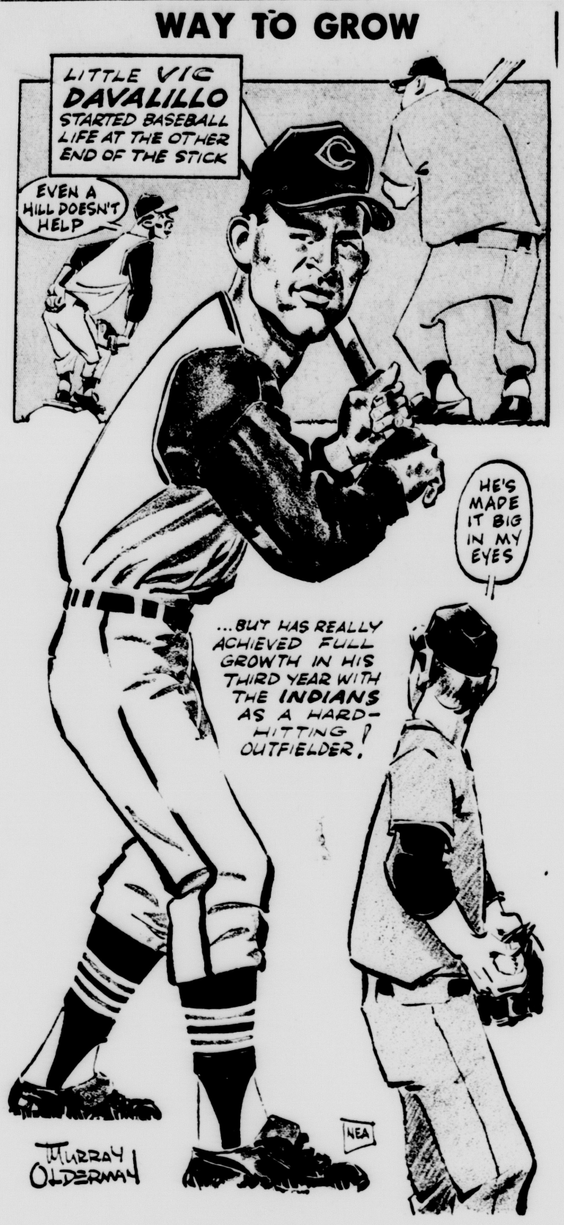

Doug Rockwell, Brown, Jack Becker, Stoutenburg and Ernie Amell hit doubles. The winners had eight safeties off a pair of hurlers.

Kiwanis, K of C Win Babe Ruth Contests

Kiwanis overpowered the 35 Club, 10-4, and the Knights of Columbus beat VFW, 4-2, in last night's Kingston Babe Ruth league games.

Kiwanis scored six times in the second frame to win its game at the Athletic Field. Monte Rios gave up seven hits and outdueled loser Steve Schabot and relief hurlers Mike Milano and John Roosa.

Dan Sass had a double and three singles for the winners and Jim Esposito doubled for the 35 Club.

Jerry Corrado hurled a five-hitter for the K of C, beating Greg Rios. He fanned 11 and Rios struck out nine in the duel.

The winners scored four times in the sixth inning on a walk, three hits and an error. Bill Brady's double was the only extra base hit.

Tonight's schedule has the Vols playing the Masons at Dietz Stadium and Hurley opposing the Legion at the Athletic Field.

Twin Double Is $3,331.80 Payoff

MONTICELLO — Last night's Twin Double at the mighty M paid $3,331.80. Winning combination was 1-2-4-5.

Winners were Mountain Win in the fifth, Spring Ginger in the sixth, Dodge Time in the seventh and Palm Walnut in the eighth. A consolation Twin return materialized for the second night in a row when Gill Bee was a late scratch in the seventh. The consolation Twin was worth $48.80.

A crowd of 3,347 was on hand to wager $261,454.

Paul S. Gray's Mountain Win, flashing form which made him one of the most respected three-year-olds in New England two seasons ago, lived up to expectations by taking the featured fifth race. Trainer-driver Don Bell was in the seat to guide the brown gelding to a length and a half triumph in 2:05.3.

Bell, a former all-central basgetball star at Frank B. Willis high school in Delaware, Ohio, had Mountain Win flying coming out of the gate. Heading up the backside, Bob Interdonato challenged with Challenge Me and Bell let him go on to the front.

Takes to Outside

At the three-quarters, the six foot three inch court ace took Mountain Win to the outside and, after racing head and head around the final turn, shot to the front in the stretch. At the wire, the five-year-old son of White Mountain Boy was pacing easy.

Challenge Me managed to hang on for second while Jimmy Grundy, leading dash-winning driver at Monticello to date, rushed Adios Topper up for third.

Mountain Win returned $6.10, 4.00 and 3.30 across the board in posting his second straight triumph at the mighty M.

Last night's 5 and 7 Daily Double combination paid $33.40 when Bobby Campbell won the first with Hobo Rita and then Vince O'Connor took the second behind Cousin Kate.

Katrine Trapshoot Is Scheduled Today

Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club hosts the regularly scheduled trapshoot of the Ulster County circuit this evening at its preserve.

Shooting starts at 6 p. m. and is open to all. The 40,000-watt lights afford excellent shooting after dark and local shooters are well pleased with scores turned in. Several 25-straights have been recorded to date.

The public is invited to look on. Refreshments are available in the attractive pavilion.

Sinclair Northeast Champion

Alex Sinclair, the Ivy League Mohawk Golf Club professional, shook off bogies on the 70th and 71st holes to par the 72nd hole and score a one-stroke victory over defending champion Ed Kroll of Cooperstown in the Northeastern New York PGA's 1965 championship Tuesday at Shaker Ridge in Albany.

Sinclair fired a one-over-par 72 Tuesday and 76 Monday for a 36-hole total of 148.

Kroll, 75-74-149, was a stroke ahead of Ralph Montoya of Little Falls, who carded 78-72-150.

Sinclair's victory earns him a spot in the National PGA tournament at Laurel Valley Country Club in Ligonier, Pa. next month. Kroll qualifies automatically for the National PGA because he finished among the top 24 last year.

Creavy Eligible

Also eligible to go to Laurel will be the winner of next week's sectional PGA qualifier at Amsterdam and the 1931 PGA champion, Tom Creavy of Saratoga Spa, who is automatically eligible for the competition.

Creavy, however, is not expected to make the trip to Ligonier due to illness that has kept him out of national competition for the past several years.

Frank Stunier, Antler's, was winner of the Seniors award and John Gaucas, Van Schaick, took runnerup honors.

Other results:

Ed Bosse, Colonie, 78-73-151; Jim Simes, Pittsfield CC, 76-75-151; John Doctor, Plattsburgh, 75-77-152; Danny Williams, Glens Falls, 76-76-152; William Gressick, Catskill, 75-79-154; Bob Mix, Albany Country Club, 77-77-154; Claude Young, Winding Brook, 79-76-155; Armand Farina, Schenectady, 81-74-155.

There were no area entries in the tournament.

Minute Car Wash Tops Cordts, 9-3

Minute Car Wash scored in every inning but the sixth and handed winless Cordt's Hose a 9-3 City Softball League setback last night at Upper Hasbrouck Park.

The winners stroked 17 base hits with Tom Taylor getting a double and triple. Ted Marable and Tom Jackson hit doubles.

Resnick Is Speaker

Expect 500 to Attend Seminar on Firearms

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick will speak on controversial anti-gun legislation Saturday at a meeting of the Winchester Gun Club of New Paltz.

The all-day meeting starts at 9 a. m. at the clubhouse on the North Ohioville Road off Route 299. Skeet and trap shooting is also planned.

All members of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County have been invited and the meeting is also open to all persons interested in the topic.

All phases of proposed gun legislation and curbs on the mail order sales of guns will be explored. A question and answer period will also be held

Also attending the event will be representtatives of the National Rifle Association, the National Sports Foundation and the gun industry.

Expect 500 Persons

Harry Thatcher of Millbrook, chairman of the conference, estimates that about 500 people will attend the all-day affair. He points out that gun legislation affects not only the hunters but every citizen of the United States.

Congressman Resnick points out there are several gun bills before both houses of Congress. He said he believes that a law is needed which would in some manner control the indiscriminate distribution of firearms. The restrictions, he feels should be reasonable, aimed primarily at keping young boys, known criminals, mental defectives, dope addicts and others who cannot responsibly handle weapons from obtaining them as easily as they can now.

Cites Statistics

"We know for example," says Resnick, "that two Los Angeles firms sent more than 4,000 guns in the last three years to buyers in Chicago. Twenty five per cent of them had criminal records!

"And all parents should be concerned over the fact that if they refuse to buy a pistol for their 12-year-old son, he can buy one behind their backs from any one of many mail order gun sellers. This should be prevented," he added.

Resnick concluded:

"To sum up, I think we would all benefit from a bill that would make it more difficult for certain elements in our society to get firearms while, at the same time, preserving the privilege of sportsmen, hunters, and other responsible citizens to obtain them without red tape and interference. One such bill, the Udall bill, has the approval of the National Rifle Association and is under consideration.

Unbeaten Season

West Point Plebe Trackmen Break Two Academy Records

WEST POINT—Two Military Academy track records fell to plebes (freshmen) this spring as the 1965 edition went through its five-meet season undefeated. That's a fair indication that there will be help forthcoming for Army track teams in the near future.

Ed Bennett of Hanover Park, N. J., broke both the Academy and Shea Stadium records in the javelin. His toss of 239 feet 4 inches against the Princeton freshmen erased the Academy mark of 237-10½ made by John Ahern in 1963. Ralph White held the old stadium mark with a toss of 226 feet 10 inches during the 1941 season.

Karl Kremser of Levittown, Pa., equalled the Academy high jump standard of 6 feet 6 inches made by Gene LaBorne in 1961. Kremser leaped 6 feet 8 inches to register a new indoor record this past winter.

Dan Seebart of White Bear Lake, Minn., picked up two freshmen standards, the shot put and the discus. He threw the shot 51 feet 8¼ inches against Mt. St. Michael's and the discus 160 feet 9 inches versus the Princeton frosh. Both efforts would have won points in this year's Army-Navy varsity meet.

Triple Jump Mark

Another first-year man, LeRoy Outlaw of Gambrills, Md., established a Plebe triple jump mark with an effort of 44 feet 11½ inches. His record leap came in the meet with the Rutgers freshmen, the final dual of the season.

Four new plebe running records were also set. Bob McDonald of Springfield, Va., covered the 880 in 5:54 flat; Jon Nolan of Lafayette, Calif., ran the mile in 4:14; and Paul DeCoursey of Monticello, Ind., the two mile in 9:27.4. All came in the meet with Princeton.

Plebe quartermilers teamed to set an Academy mark of 3:21.9 in the mile relay. John Cochran of White Plains; Ralph Fraley of Tiffin, Ohio; Mark Edelman of Montgomery; and Bill Clinton of Syracuse, formed the quartet.

Largest living rodent is South American capybara, which weighs as much as 100 pounds and sometimes is four feet long.

McLain Whiffs 14 In Relief

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dennis the Menace is one-up on the Monster; the Monster has the Willies and the Boston Red Sox have had a tankful of the Tigers.

Detroit's Denny McLain, no menace in 10 of 11 previous pitching efforts this year, set a major league strikeout record Tuesday night in the Tigers' 6-5 come-from-behind victory over Boston.

Dick Radatz, the Monster of the Red Sox' bullpen who shared the strikeout mark broken by McLain, came in to protect a three-run lead in the eighth inning and gave up four, including a decisive three-run homer by American League home run leader Willie Horton.

McLain, a 21-year-old right-hander who struck out 261 hitters and married Lou Boudreau's daughter two years ago, replaced Detroit starter Dave Wickersham in the first inning Tuesday night and fanned the first seven Red Sox he faced, breaking by one the all-time record for consecutive strikeouts by a relief pitcher.

He wound up with 14 strikeouts in 6 2-3 innings — and no cigar. Fred Gladding, who pitched the final two innings after McLain was lifted for a pinch-hitter, received credit for the victory. Gladding added four strikeouts, giving the two Detroit relievers a total of 18 for the game.

5th Straight Win

McLain, whose string of seven strikeouts also tied the AL record for starting pitchers and relievers — starters Max Surkont, Johnny Podres and Jim Maloney share the modern major league mark of eight — now has fanned 66 in 73 1-3 innings.

The Chicago native has started nine games this season and completed only one of them, a three-hit 4-0 victory over Washington May 19. He is 2-3 for the season and 8-9 with the Tigers since they picked him up from the White Sox on first-year waivers in 1963.

McLain's strikeout feat overshadowed league-leading Minnesota's 4-0 triumph over second-place Chicago in the opener of a three-game series betwen th two contenders. Baltimore nippd the New York Yankees 2-1 in 10 innings; Cleveland whipped Washington 8-3 and Kansas City blanked the Los Angeles Angels 5-0.

McLain, who relieved Wickersham with Boston in front 3-0 in the first, yielded two more runs before leaving the game for a hitter in the seventh.

Radatz, the third relief pitcher to fan six men in a row — he did it against the Yankees last month — gave up a run in the eighth on a hit batsman, Jerry Lumpe's double and Gates Brown's infield single before Horton unloaded a 3-2 pitch into the lower left field stands.

The homer was Horton's third in three games and 14th of the season.

Minnesota's Jim Grant stopped the White Sox on five hits for his sixth victory in seven decisions. He has beaten Chicago three times without a loss. Tony Oliva and Bob Allison hit home runs off Gary Peters, 5-5, as the Twins stretched their league lead to 1½ games.

Ties Record

Russ Snyder, a former Yankee farmhand, drove in both Baltimore runs with a sacrifice fly in the eighth and a 10th inning single, beating Mel Stottlemyre, 7-3, and enabling the Orioles to stretch their winning string through five games.

Rocky Colavito's three-run homer and Chuck Hinton's solo shot powered Cleveland past the Senators. Gary Bell pitched the last three innings, preserving Sam McDowll's seventh victory. Hinton, an ex-Senator, has hit four of his six homers against Washington.

TELL ME, DID IT DROP?—Dan Sikes closes his eyes waiting for his 35-foot birdie putt to drop in the 18th hole. It did, bringing him the $25,000 first prize in the Cleveland Open Sunday. The pressure putt beat Tony Lema, defending champion who finished one stroke back at 273. (AP Wirephoto)

35 Boats Compete

Vestal Pilot Sunfish Winner at Rosendale

Donald C. Shaffer of Vestal, with Robbin Sprague of Newburgh as mate, was the combined winner in the Sunfish Class of the annual Williams Lake Hotel Alcort Sailing Regatta on Williams Lake in Rosendale.

Donald Wild won the Sailfish Class combined over two separate courses on a windy lake.

The outstanding competitor, Shaffer easily captured first place in the morning race and two afternoon races. His green sail stood out in the lead position during most of the time the races were in progress.

Norm Foster of Vestal placed second, fourth and third respectively, to cop second place in the combined standings. His red Sunfish was the only one to push Shaffer at any time throughout the day. Shaffer's win in the third race was not determined until the final lap, after an expert turn to port around a becalmed marker.

Disqualification

Peter Coleman of Binghamton placed fourth, fifth and fourth to win combined third prize. Mike Doll, also of Binghamton, committed a foul by touching the first buoy in the first race, thus disqualifying himself for combined standing, but in the third race he closed from fourth to take second behind Shaffer by maneuvering his boat narrowly inside Foster's at the finish.

The races were marked by spirited competition. In the second race six boats finished the four-mile course within 10 seconds of each other. In the final race, the second and fourth place boats were only three seconds apart. Twelve boats participated in the colorful Sunfish Class of the regatta.

Localite Third

Four boats were entered in the Sailfish Class, which began five minutes behind the Sunfish Class. Don Wild, the combined winner, sailed his smaller craft without cockpit, around the three-lap, four mile course in only two minutes slower than Shaffer in the Sunfish, and in so doing was faster than all others in the Sun or Sailfish Classes. Jim Buhrmaster of Scotia won the third race over Wild, after placing second in the two previous events, and took second honors. Jim Valeo of Rosendale withstood numerous spills on the gusty lake to finish third in the combined scoring.

Conditions were ideal for an exciting race, with winds reaching thirty-five knots during the mid-afternoon. Chuck Durgin of Binghamton laid out excellant and challenging courses in an hourglass pattern. The course for the morning race encountered a long windward start requiring skill in maneuvering while all boats were bunched. The winning time of the respective races (Sunfish) were 1 hour, 5 minutes; 38 minutes; and 42 minutes, 45 seconds.

Lee Roberts Named Coach at Sullivan

Lee Roberts, varsity basketball and baseball coach in the Ellenville Central School system, has been named head soccer and assistant varsity basketball coach at Sullivan County Community College. The appointment becomes effective in September.

A three letter athlete (soccer, basketball and baseball) at Ellenville, Roberts was graduated in 1956. He received his B.S. degree from Springfield College and his Master's degree from Bridgeport University, where he was awarded a Fellowship and acted as assistant varsity soccer and head freshman baseball coach.

On Championship Team

While at Springfield, Roberts played on the National Collegiate soccer champions of 1957 and was also a member of the baseball, basketball and golf teams.

At Ellenville, he coached the baseball team to village league titles in 1962 and 1965. His 1964-65 cage team set a school record with 16 wins and only four losses and went to the finals of the Section 9 tournament.

His overall basketball record in three years of varsity coaching was 34-22. His baseball teams had a mark of 14-4 and in two years of coaching soccer, the Ellies had a 16-5 record.

In the Ellenville Recreation League's first season, the Ellenville Savings Bank, of which he served as a player and coach, won the regular season championship and he was awarded a spot on the circuit's all-star team. He also served as president and was one of the founders of the league.

Roberts will be an instructor in the physical education department at the Sullivan County school. He held the same position in Ellenville.

His father A. W. (Pete) Roberts, is a long-time secretary of the DUSO league and was an outstanding official for several years.

Mathews' 458th Is 2,000th Hit

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee slugger Eddie Mathews resisted an impulse to bunt for his 2,000th National League hit and was duly rewarded — with the 458th homer of his career.

Mathews was in a merry mood after reaching another milestone and contributing to the Braves' 21-hit attack, high in the league this season, in a 12-7 victory over Philadelphia Tuesday night.

"I didn't think I was pressing for the 2,000th hit, but I wasn't sure and even thought about bunting," the 33-year-old third baseman said.

"The home run is especially satisfying. My wife and one son and my mother (Mrs. Eloise Mathews of Santa Barbara, Calif.) were in the stands. This has to be one of my biggest thrills."

Mathews said he couldn't remember his first hit in 1952, when he broke in with the Braves, then in Boston.

Mathews connected for his 13th homer of the season and joined 110 others in baseball's exclusive 2,000-hit club.

Mathews' blast, a towering poke on Art Mahaffey's first pitch in the third inning, triggered a six-run uprising by the Braves, who built up an 11-0 lead and then checked the Phils' comeback.

Alou Boys Hit Well For Teams

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Felipe and Matty Alou haven't been teammates for two seasons, but they still work together like the Lone Ranger and Tonto.

The brothers, Felipe with Milwaukee and Matty with San Francisco, teamed up Tuesday night to move the Braves a game closer to the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

Felipe drove in six runs with two homers and a single, sparking the second-place Braves to a 12-7 victory over Philadelphia while Matty scored both runs in the Giants' 2-1 triumph over the Dodgers. Milwaukee now trails Los Angeles by 2½ games.

The Alou brothers, including Jesus, played together with the Giants in 1963. At the time, Felipe was in his sixth year, Matty his fourth and Jesus his first at San Francisco. But in December of that year, Felipe was shipped to Milwaukee, and then there were two.

He enjoyed one of his better nights against the Dodgers, though. With one out in the first inning, the 26-year-old lefty doubled and stole third as pitcher Don Drysdale peered in for the sign for his first pitch to Willie Mays. Mays then tripled for the first run.

Beats Out Bunt

After Wes Parker's home run tied the game in the fourth, Matty led off the sixth by beating out a bunt in front of the plate. He moved to second on a infield out and raced home as Jim Hart singled to right.

Felipe, meanwhile, became the first National Leaguer to knock in six runs in a game this season. His performance brought his average to .302, his homer total to 10 and his runs batted in mark to 36, the last just one behind Ed Mathews' team-leading 37.

Marichal held the Dodgers to five hits, two by Drysdale, and brought his record to 10-5. Drysdale, who had won nine of his last 10 games, suffered his fourth setback against 11 victories.

Felipe Alou ignited a 21-hit Braves' attack with his first-inning homer, then singled home two runs in the six-run third and clouted a three-run homer in the sixth. Eddie Mathews triggered the six-run outburst with a home run, the 2,000th hit of his career.

Bucs Top Cards

The Pirates beat St. Louis for the first time in 18 games as Donn Clendenon drove in four runs with homers in the eighth and ninth innings. Pinch hitter Ossie Virgil's bases-empty homer in the Pittsburgh seventh tied it 5-5 after the Cardinals had scored four times in the fourth, two on Jerry Buchek's triple.

Sammy Ellis pitched a four-hitter for his 10th victory against two defeats. He allowed the Mets only one hit after the second inning and at one stretch retired 18 straight batters. Pete Rose and Deron Johnson each lashed a two-run double for Cincinnati.

Between you'n'me

The National Game of the Week cameras zoomed in on Casey Stengel taking a quick drag on a cigarette the other day. And Yogi Berra, his coach with the New York Mets, is another who sneaks quick puffs during a ball game. It's as though the boys never knew there's a standing baseball fine of $100 for guys smoking in the dugout. . . .

The radio-television boys have neatly resolved the problem of what to call Jesus Alou, the slugging young outfielder of the San Francisco Giants. They give his first name the Spanish pronunciation — "Hay-soos." . . .

Warren Spahn

All this lovey-dovey admiration society between Casey Stengel and Warren Spahn on the Mets has to tickle those who know the history of their relationship. Through most of their major league career, Spahn nursed a hate-on for the old man because it was Stengel, as manager of the old Boston Braves in pre-World War II days, who shipped Spahn back to the minors . . . and also questioned his fortitude on the mound. . . .

Buzz of undercurrent on the pullout of VPI from the Southern Conference is that the Gobblers from the hills of Virginia have designs on a berth in the Southeastern Conference soon as Tulane decides it has had enough. . . .

This has been the quietest trading period in pro football for at least five years. In all the NFL, only seven deals have been made in 1965, most of them minor. The big ones were John David Crow (Cards) for Abe Woodson (49ers) and Dan Currie (Packers for Carroll Dale (Rams). What has everybody flabbergasted is the apparent inertia of the Giants on their quarterback situation — as though they expect to go with little Gary Wood. Especially when King Hill of the Eagles might be available. . . .

One man not surprised by the early hit splurge of Danny Cater of the White Sox is Bob Veale, the fine pitcher of the Pittsburgh Pirates. On a night Veale struck out 21 batters in the International League, he lost the game when Cater, then a Philly chattel in Buffalo, tripled in the ninth inning. . . .

This is how it is with the Yankees under CBS management. Bob Fishel is the vice president in charge of public relations. Perry Smith, who handles the telecasts, is the vice president of broadcast affairs. Johnny Keane is undoubtedly the vice president in charge of the dugout. And Jackie Farrell advises us he's the vice president in charge of Mickey Mantle autographs.

Somebody must have slipped Pete Rozelle a mickey before he O.K.'d the NFL schedule for his old team, the LA Rams. On consecutive weekends the last month of the season they play the Green Bay Packers, St. Louis Cardinals, Cleveland Browns and Baltimore Colts — the 1-2 finishers in both divisions. . . .

Middleweight Rubin Carter, back in action stateside after getting jobbed in England, sighs, "If it wasn't for bad luck, I wouldn't have no luck at all." The goateed contender is one of the most colorful men in the ring, cheerfully admits to a lurid background ("I used to be a scoundrel") and cracks that if they put the police commissioner of Paterson, N. J. (his home town) in the ring as referee, "I might hit him then." . . . But he won't move to Denver — Carter, Sonny Liston and Cookie Gilchrist would be too much in one place. . . .

Between you'n'me, there've been strange rumblings of big peace powwows between the two major pro football leagues. . . .

Lions Club Nips Merchants, 5-4, for First Twi Victory

McGowan Whiffs 14 for Winners

Each team went into the ball game without a win in the early 1965 season. Each team was limited to three hits. But the Lions Club came up with one more run to nip Port Ewen Merchants, 5-4, in a battle of City Baseball League have-nots at Dietz Stadium Tuesday night.

Two pitchers on each side collaborated on the 3-hitters. The big difference was a 3-run explosion by the Lions in the third inning off losing pitcher Gary Greiner.

Frank McGowan, who won it for the Lions, struck out 14 and starter Ted Bream added two more. Wayne Johnson, a catcher-pitcher man, whiffed 11 Lions.

The Big Inning

The three Lions Club tallies in the third were somewhat less than authentic. One scored on a passed ball, another on messed-up rundown, the third on Pete Watzka's sacrifice. Johnson relieved Greiner at this point.

Mike Derrenbacher singled in Ron Valle with a Lions run in the top of the first. The Merchants bounced back to go ahead 2-1 on an error and Bill Reinhardt's single.

Another Passed Ball

Another passed ball gave the Lions their final run and a 5-2 lead in the fifth. Reinhardt singled Boots Buytkins home with Port Ewen's third run in the fifth and in the sixth Dave Horton's single accounted for Dan Potter.

There wasn't an extra baser in the game and Bill Reinhardt, who played three positions—second base, left field and catcher—for Port Ewen was the only player with two singles.

Upcoming games at Dietz are:

Thursday — Schovel's Tree Service vs. Lou's 8:15 p. m.

Friday — Port Ewen Merchants vs. Elmer's Inn, 8:15 p. m.

Appeals for Unity

BOSTON (AP)—Richard Cardinal Cushing, Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston, has appealed for unity among all Christians "from renewal of the inner life of our minds, from self-denial and unstinted love."

The cardinal spoke Tuesday night at the second annual National Workshop on Christian Unity, attended by Catholic and Protestant clergy and laymen.

He said, "It is becoming less and less possible for Christians to live in their own self-contained worlds."

Accepts Life Peerage

LONDON (AP) — Lady Spencer-Churchill, Sir Winston's widow, took her seat in the House of Lords Tuesday, an honor refused by her husband throughout his life.

She accepted a life peerage from Britain's Labor government last month, just a few weeks after her 80th birthday and four months after the death of her husband.

Judy Back on Stage

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Singer Judy Garland, making her first Las Vegas singing appearance in more than three years, received a standing ovation Tuesday night—just hours after she was released from a hospital.

She was on stage 40 minutes in the hotel nightspot, curtsying to continuous applause, shouts of "more, more," and even hand-clapping.

Miss Garland, 43, was released from the University of California at Los Angeles medical center Tuesday morning after treatment for an allergic reaction to medicine.

Capitol News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new Defense Department building will be named for the late James V. Forrestal, the nation's first secretary of defense, according to an announcement made Tuesday by President Johnson.

Johnson unveiled a model of the structure which will actually be three buildings tied together by plazas and walkways. It will span 10th street in southwest Washington by special permission of Congress.

The building is expected to cost $30 million to $32 million and will house some 6,600 Army and Air Force employes now scattered around Washington. Construction is due to start this year with completion in 1967.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General John A. Gronouski says nearly 25 per cent of the 34,000 U.S. post offices are obsolete.

He announced Tuesday a 5-year program to erect 4,500 buildings at a cost of between $800 million and $850 million.

BURRO BOOM—Wild California burros, like the trio pictured above, are having a population explosion. In the Bakersfield area alone, some 3,000 roam the countryside, not counting the ones in Death Valley National Monument. The hardy animals will eat almost any vegetation and are more powerful and aggressive than any other form of desert wildlife. Officials fear that other wildlife will decline while the burros enjoy their boom.

Still Glitter in Barry's Name

South Carolina Elects Watson to Congress; First GOPer Since '93

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP- — Political switch-hitter Albert W. Watson carries his new Republican pennant back to Washington today, the landslide winner in a race to regain the House seat he won twice as a Democrat.

In the conservative, Republican-minded 2nd Congressional District, Watson proved that among Southerners, there is still political glitter in the name Barry Goldwater.

He trounced Democrat Preston H. Callison Tuesday, 55,849 votes to 24,781. Special election returns from the eight-county district, the state's most populous, were complete but unofficial.

Watson wasted no time in reclaiming the House seat he quit Jan. 27 after Democrats took away his slender seniority because he supported Goldwater's Republican presidential bid.

He planned to fly to Washington today and head straight for the House. Watson said he had asked House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford to have him sworn in again at today's session.

Watson said House Republicans have told him they can get unanimous consent to bypass official state certification of his election and have him seated at once.

With Watson's election as a Republican, the GOP holds 141 House seats. The Democrats have 294.

Watson argued Northern liberals had sought through him to punish the people of South Carolina for backing Goldwater.

Goldwater carried the 2nd District by a 2-1 margin over President Johnson. Watson's victory was even more one-sided.

Watson became the first Republican elected to Congress from South Carolina since 1893.

A budget totaling $1,610,024.97 was approved for 1965-66 Tuesday by voters in the Highland Central School District. The total included $1,578,524.97 for general operating expenditures and $31,500 to comply with a section of the law relating to take home pay. The vote on the budget was 137-48 with one blank vote. A school district official said the amount to be raised by taxation will be about $66,000 above last year's total.

Names Mrs. Irwin Jenkins Winner At Onteora P-TA

Mrs. E. Griffin Irwin of Shokan was named winner of the Onteora Central High P-TA Jenkins Memorial Award for 1965. The presentation was made by Edward S. Witko, vice principal.

The citation noted Mrs. Irwin's activities in behalf of the youth of Onteora Central district dating back to the early days of the organization of the school district.

Her long list of achievements included:

Chairman of the first transportation committee of the Board of Education.

Active in instituting kindergarten registration.

One of the first volunteer workers (in early 1950's) to assist in annual registration of voters.

Instrumental in forming the original Onteora P-TA in the early 1950's and about three years later, the high school unit.

Program chairman and active on other committees of P-TA in formative years.

Member of American Field Service committee and currently publicity chairman.

Started Daisy Chain

First chairman of the decoration committee for senior class commencement, a service which she has done faithfully, and often single-handed, since the first graduation program in 19[illegible].

Instituted tradition of Daisy Chain (escort of graduates by selected junior girls).

Her son graduated from Onteora in 1963, the last of her school children but she continues her interest in school affairs.

She was praised by Witko for her devotion to young people, her willingness to serve, often with little recognition, at any time and in any way needed, and her cooperation with administration, parents and the community.

The Jenkins award is given annually to a person in the Onteora Central School District at the high school level who has been active in the school, P-TA and community in activities centered around the youth of the district.

The award consists of an honorary life membership in P-TA and a donation, given in Mrs. Irwin's name, toward a scholarship fund in teaching.

Wilson Director For Turnau Opera

Turnau Opera Players of Woodstock open their 11th season of professional opera on July 99 under the musical direction of Warren Wilson.

Wilson brings to his demanding Turnau post a combination of rare talent and vast experience. He has accompanied such renowned artists as Leontyne Price, Shirley Varrett and William Warfield, with whom he just completed a national tour.

In 1961 he was engaged by the Metropolitan Opera Studio to assist George Schick in the preparation of Cosi Fan Tutte and The Barber of Seville. Schick considers Wilson "an outstanding figure with great sensitivity and pianistic skill." This brilliant young musician has also played for the Oratorio Society and the Collegiate Chorale.

Succeeds Wyner

Wilson was associate musical director for Turnau last summer and received outstanding accolades from the critics. He assumed the position of musical director last fall upon the resignations of Yehudi Wyner from that post.

Persons interested in more information about the 1965 season are asked to write Turnau Opera, Woodstock.

Pattern Chicago Protests After Drive in Dixie

CHICAGO (AP) — The mass rallies, daily marches and civil disobedience marking the civil rights drive in Chicago are patterned after protests in the South, its leaders say.

"We're demonstrating for the same reason in Chicago as they are in Jackson, Miss. — against the basic injustice of our society," said Albert A. Raby, 32, head of the Coordinating Committee of Community Organizations, the group leading the protests.

"It's our intention," he said in an interview, "to have the same kind of drive here as in the South."

Another march was called for today.

In six days, the protest leaders have staged three rallies, one prayer meeting and four marches on City Hall. The marches resulted in mass arrests and traffic chaos. More than 525 persons have been arrested.

At least 85 marchers were arrested Tuesday after a sit-down at State and Madison streets in the downtown district. About 250 other marchers, led by Raby, who was not arrested, continued to City Hall for conferences with a group of clergymen acting as mediators between the protestors and Mayor Richard J. Daley.

"There's a growing awareness that this is a long-term project," a spokesman for the demonstrators said. "We are not just going to march around a building and magically solve the problem."

The first target of the protests was Schools Supt. Benjamin C. Willis, rehired for another 18 months by the Board of Education May 29. The integrationists originally demanded that Mayor Daley oust Willis.

Now, they say, Daley also is a target.

"Willis is not important," said Raby. "If we can topple the Daley machine in Chicago, we can topple the machine of any Northern City.

"If we are not successful in marches, we will find economic means."

Demands to Daley included that he endorse a change in the school superintendency and that he issue a public statement supporting integration in public schools.

Cody Appointed Archbishop of Chicago by Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI has appointed Archbishop John Patrick Cody of New Orleans to be archbishop of Chicago, the Vatican announced today.

The Chicago archdiocese is the nation's largest, with nearly 2 million Roman Catholics living within its boundaries. It has been without an archbishop since Albert Cardinal Meyer died April 9.

There was speculation at the Vatican that Cody, 57, probably will be elevated to the rank of cardinal, perhaps at the next consistory in Rome. No date for a consistory has been set.

Heavy Damage Is Caused by 4th Suspicious Fire

A fourth fire of suspicious origin to occur in the Malden-West Camp Fire District and the district's protective area, Tuesday night caused heavy damage to a two-story frame unoccupied house on the Everson property on Emerick Road, West Camp.

Fire Chief Benny Notarnicola said in his opinion the four fires were of incendiary origin. He stated that he is investigating last night's blaze, which apparently originated in the kitchen area and mushroomed up into the attic and through the roof.

The chief told a reporter that the house had not been occupied for many years and he described the building as the old Everson homestead. Notarnicola noted there was no electricity or heating unit operating in the house.

The fire official recalled that on June 3, fire destroyed a frame building on the Alpha Portland Cement property at Cementon. He said Kingston State Police were asked to investigate that blaze.

On June 9, Chief Notarnicola said, fire of incendiary origin destroyed a frame house on the Emerick Estate. Last Saturday fire was discovered in an unoccupied house at Cementon. The blaze, which the chief said originated in the attic area, was extinguished by West Camp firefighters.

Chief Notarnicola said Leeds State Police were called in to investigate the origin of that fire.

"It appears that a pattern for setting unoccupied buildings is being followed by whoever might be starting these fires," Chief Notarnicola said. "I definitely feel that all four fires this month were of incendiary origin." He noted that with the exception of the building on the Alpha Portland Cement Co. property, the other structures had no electric wiring or heating units.

UNIVAC Is Going To Philly Suburb

NEW YORK (AP) — The Sperry Rand Corp. reported today it is transferring its UNIVAC division from New York City to the Philadelphia suburb of Blue Bell.

A spokesman for Sperry Rand said the data-processing unit would be relocated by Sept. 1, most of the staff would be moved by November and its international operations would move next spring.

About 300 persons are involved.

"What we're doing is bringing our data-processing people together under one roof at Philadelphia, with the exception of the Upstate New York production facility," the spokesman said.

The production facility is at Utica-Ilion, N.Y.

The company's annual report issued May 28, traced much of the company's decline in earnings to its electronic data-processing operations.

Begley Appears Second Time for Manhattan Jury

NEW YORK (AP)—State Sen. Owen M. Begley, Schenectady Democrat, testified Tuesday for the second time before a Manhattan grand jury investigating whether the state conflict of interest law had been violated.

Harold A. Blauvelt, president of the Blauvelt Engineering Co., a Manhattan firm that held many state contracts, testified for the third ime before the jury. Begley was associated with the firm for seven years.

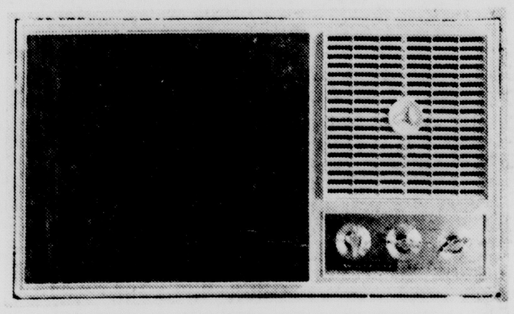

The law bars public officials from holding an interest in firms that hold non-competitive contracts with the state worth more than $25 a year. Begley is a member of the Senate Highways and Parkways Committee.

Begley testified Tuesday for 90 minutes. He waived immunity June 2.

Both men may be recalled, Asst. Dist. Atty. Leonard Newman said.
